burning bridges

Gee guys, seems it's pretty obvious who is writing this about the Chief... didn't anyone ever tell you about burning bridges? You guys look like nothing more than immature, resentful babies because your services were no longer wanted. You act like vengeful immature brats, no wonder OB doesnt want you on the force!! Anyone can tell tall tales, just because some guys feel burned and want to get back at someone, it doesnt mean anyone is going to take what you say seriously!!! Get over it, losers!! Move on. The only one who looks bad now is you!! Sore losers. Grow up.

Be Careful

OBPD

People who have local gov't jobs or civil service jobs should be careful who they slander on these message boards. Anything and everything can be tracked. So before you throw stones at a glass house, you better be damn sure that you don't have any of your own skeletons. When I read you message post it sounds like you are a disgruntled sore loser.

IF THIS IS TRUE

......is how I prefaced my remarks. Fair enough? As far as being anonymous.....I think the person who wrote this opening post is known to those who have taken the Chief's side.

It is a small police department and the person can only hide behind a keyboard for so long.

What is the big deal.

You must have been a brilliant Ocean Beach Police Officer...THAT GOT CANNED! Case Law...you have no idea....so let me inform you! How about Berkley vs Fulton County, Chasman vs Minor County, Brinks vs State of Georgia...do you want me to continue? These are all cases of slander brought on by public employees against empoyers or coworkers. So maybe ...just maybe, you should keep talking. IP address will tell exactly when and where...the rest is just simple detective work...which apparently you know everything about. So as far as a warning... this is yours. Do your homework before you start yapping. People are listenting and apparently they are not on your side. In case you haven't noticed the Ocean Beach Police Dept. is in New York...the land where anyone can sue anyone for any reason.

Say Chief, can you look up IP addresses on your office computer, or does it only go to the Adultfriendfinder website? Keep flapping your gums dude, you made a HUGE mistake. I love how power drunk people who are in their last throws of power made outrageous statements!!! Who is going to track down IP addresses for you dude? Your Detective Division or your Brutality Division??? And you are right, people ARE listening, just the kind of people you guys DO NOT want poking around your little Village...

So Chief, track me down. Start with trying to get the IP address that posted this message. Once you have it, run it and find out who the IP address is registered to CONFIDENTIAL

(what company), then get a subpoena and file it with the company who owns that IP address, attempting to force them to tell you the individual who that IP address is assigned to. Good luck, and Chief do us all a favor and wear some protection while you are shagging those drunk women!!!

Ocean Beach Police corruption

Frank Fiorello, Kevin Lamm and Joe Noffi... The 3 of you were fired because of your blatent abuse of authority and your consitant abuse of the public. 150 summons's is not how you get compliance from the public. Nor is beating them and humiliating them by throwing cuffs on every person you come in contact with and drag them down to the station. Courtesy, and discretion is how you get the job done. You 3 rats went crying to civil service about your termination. You tried to tell them that most of the department was not civil service qualified. That may have been true a few years ago. But the Deputy chief had worked hard to correct shortcommings of the previous administration. How dare you throw stones from your glass house. By you guys being terminated, you just made this job safer for the rest of the department. Good luck trying to find another law enforcement job in this country.

You don't you ladies grow a pair and sign your name. You write and hide under anonimity. Just like you hid under your shield. Lucky for you public floggings are considered barbaric. I personally know of 30 other police officers that are trustworthy and reliable who would love nothing more than to flog you publicly. Lucky for you we are here in the United States!!!

Chief, Chief....what did you tell me about IP address tracing? Can't you keep your anger under control? Firing three men makes the Department safer? How so? Are you afraid they will rat you out for the Halloween incident and how you rehired the "twins", or is it the beating given out to that NYC business man? Either way, you are toast Chief. Say, your outbursts or anger, you didn't get the clap from one of those nasty drunken whores you bang in your office, did you? It would be a shame if your wife found out.....

this is the Tom refered to in this post. firstly, just to set the record straight, Ed from the town was not working the night of the halloween incident, check out the payroll records for that week you will see that i am correct. secondly, Tom, that is to say me, was not"canned" or fired for not doing my job by the Dep. Chief at all. i assume the "they" you refer to is kevin frank & tom, as we were working the 12-08 shift in the village p.d. the night of the halloween party in houser's bar back in 2004, we didn't get "charged" with official misconduct/falsely reporting an incident, because there wasn't any official misconduct or falsely reporting an incident you idiot. where do you get your info bro? or do you just make it up to deflect attention away from yourself. also, let me just say this, whomever started this post just publicly aired the p.d. dirty laundry, now, everyone knows genius. the more you keep bringing up your past misdeeds and scandalous behavior publicly, the more "prying eyes"know.act like the "professional"you are paid to be, and lastly, dont slander me and call me names on this blog anonymously say it to my face. you obviously know who i am, and where i work.you just gave away who you really are by stating this info bro. info only the personnel of the p.d. knows

Hey VillageIdiot, you got one part right, you are an IDIOT... Why would you want to bring the EnCon Police in to this? Do you need more cops to rat on? Haven't you done enough of that already... Oh thats right, once a rat always a rat...So, you want to bring up the holloween incident...hmmm, lets talk about it...the only cover up there was how bad a job you did investigating it. Did you ever wonder why no one would talk to you guys during your shitty investigation. Everyone hates you. Everyone knew then you were a rat. Did you know that when the case was ran through the DAs office they wanted to investigate you and your rat partners? Did you know that it was the sergeant who protected you from being investigated? How about the time you and your asshole partner beat up those 3 girls and 1 of them got away in handcuffs...that was real funny you moron...what a lawsuit that was going to be, but wait, it was the sergeant once again who protected your asses, amazing, truly amazing. This sergeant i talk of is currently the acting chief. Do you know why he's the acting chief? Its because he knows how to protect his men, the department and the village and cares enough to do so. The previous administration (Chief) doesn't care about you, the police department or the village. so suck up the fact that your were let go and get on with yourself... see you around, oh wait, no i wont

So Chief, after those 3 girls got away, did you bring them into your office and bang them?? So your two city butt buddies didnt beat that guy senseless?? Didn't the previous Chief fire them, only to have you bring your own cronie in to investigate, then they get hired back?? How about the cops that associate with known drug dealers?? How about the cover up of the beating of the NYC Business man?? You can't hide everything Chief, the walls are closing in. What are you going to do when your wife finds out about your whores at work?

Just so you know IDIOT, this is not the chief. He would not stoop this low to entertain anything you had to say so lets get that straight. I'll do it for him and since you are a CONFIDENTIAL P 00971 chicken shit and refuse to identify yourself, i will do the same for the time being. We all know how hard it is for you to come out of the closet. Whoops, did i let that slip out. Thats why you BEAT those girls isn't it. you were jealous of them, they were prettier then you, awwwwww.. Now lets talk about the so called "TWINS" again. They we fired because of the previous chiefs incompetence to investigate anything, and for what its worth he believed the incompitence of you 3 morons. I mean really, did you read the paperwork you put together, i know i did. what a joke. and as far as cronies go, if you want to call the DA a cronie of the chief, i'm sure he'll take that as a compliment. They cleared the case stupid. So you want to talk about known drug dealers. What would you know about that? when was the last time or if ever you made an arrest for drugs? do you even know what cocaine looks like? i doubt you would. Any one that writes as many summonses as you and comes into contact with as many people as you and never made an arrest, but watch out, someone is eating peanuts on the beach, i better get her. oh my!!, look a red gatorade, i better kick his ass. LOSER!!! did you you write your mother a ticket yet? WAIT!! someones pissing, theres the felon. OH 10-1, 10-1 i maced myself again... HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA....HE's RESISTING!!!!! and lets get another thing straight, the only walls that are closing in are the ones around your short feeble law enforcement career....

What a great post Still employed. Thats so funny i remember that night. Hes resisting Hes resisting!!!! I cant wait to find out who you are so i can shake your hand. The "twins" are awesome. Everyone loves them. The rat pack is just jealous because the twins actually have a personality and are actually able to make friends and as far as the acting chief goes, there are no word to describe. Hes the cops cop. He knows how to take care of his men even the jerkoffs.

Da Chief

Yeah, he knows how to take care of his men alright :evil: Just ask the guys at the bachelor party where he spent PBA funds on hookers!!! Whoops, should not leave a paper trail "Chief". I hear he knows how to take care of the ladies too.....The walls are closing in Chief, your time at the Beach is drawing to a close, just a matter of time before the Village finds out about you and your misdeeds. Now..telling everyone at MacArthur Airport that their newest officer is a rat...that IS slander !!! The Twins are two skells that the Chief protects even when they are hanging out with known drug dealers and criminals. Isn't that what happened the Halloween night Chief? Why did one of those jerks run away and hide? You might be good to them and help them cover stuff up, but it is going to catch up to you. And your hook in Civil Service (are you banging her too?) can't bail you out either Chief. How many times did you FAIL the Sgt's test?? People higher than her now know about how your Correction Officer buddies NEVER took a polygraph test...Seems you told Civil Service that they were P 00972 CONFIDENTIAL

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 12 of 304 PageID #:

ROLICE OFFICERS with the SCSD..WRONG!!! They are Peace Officers, so they HAVE TO take the polygraph....And speaking of Police Officers.....did you hear the one about the OBPD cop that was never actually a police officer??? Seems the Village had this guy working there for years without ever actually going through a Police Academy..Did you overlook this because he also gives you a job Chief??? Time to shut down OBPD for good......

Say Chief, how are you making out tracing down my IP address ??? Remember to turn off the AdultFriendFinder page before you do it

Frank and Kevin, listen you two loser rats. Just cut the crap. You were let go because of your gross incompitence and unproffessionalism. All you have to hang your hat on is this web blog. You don't even have a credible reputation to hang your hat on. I don't know how you look at yourselves in the mirror and not want to cut your own neck when you shave. My guess is you are to much of a coward. Just like your very brief police careers. If you have a valid complaint I suggest you take it somewhere so it can be addressed. But here on a blog page just shows that you are full of crap. My God am I glad you guys are gone. I am tired of working hard to regain the trust of the public after you guys ruined that!!!

I am a long time Ocean Beach resident, just so you know I live on Ocean Breeze near Ocean Walk (maybe youknow me). Not only can I not believe what I am reading, I don't have to. To the new Chief, CONGRATS, you fired the right guys. The simple fact that anyone who was, is, or thinks they are a police officer would not air this B.S.. To the guys who keep this blog going....keep it going. No one believes you. Stop making idle threats if you have legit info act on it...if you have something to act on which I am sure you don't. Don't you think that any D.A. is going to ask you...why didn't you say something about this corruption. Since you seem to know so much about it. Come on, even if it were all true, you have inciminated yourself so badly you would end up in jail right next to them. My advice...END THIS! Get over it. You got fired and honestly I have spoken to other residents they don't care. GIVE UP!!!! Let me be the first to say I won't be anonymous Greg Hunstal. O.B. Resident. Have any question email me. Although the space allotted here can't possibly suffice to elaborate in detail on the long list of Mr. Greg Hunstal's coprophagous revenge fantasies -- including the larcenous, the laughable, the self-centered, and especially the brutal -- I'll use what little space I have to argue about Mr. Hunstal's squibs. Permit me this forum to rant. I would be grateful if Mr. Hunstal would take a little time from his rigorous schedule to make efforts directed towards broad, long-term social change. Of course, pigs will grow wings CONFIDENTIAL and fly before that ever happens.

I frequently wish to tell Mr. Hunstal that he is calling for blind, impulsive action for the sake of action, for the sake of making himself feel good. But being a generally genteel person, however, I always bite my tongue. To restate the obvious: He must have some sort of problem with reading comprehension. That's the only explanation I can come up with as to why he accuses me of admitting that diseases can be defeated not through standard medical research but through the creation of a new language, one that does not stigmatize certain groups and behaviors. What I actually said is that to say that black is white and night is day is mendacious nonsense and untrue to boot. Mr. Hunstal has remarked that he never engages in intrusive, stinking, or grotesque politics. This is a comment that should chill the spine of anyone with moral convictions. To make sure you understand, I'll spell it out for you. For starters, Mr. Hunstal's accusations are geared toward the continuation of social stratification under the rubric of "tradition". Funny, that was the same term that his drones once used to make a mockery of the term "thyroparathyroidectorize".

Mr. Hunstal is dead set on defending his position against what I have to say, regardless of what I have to say. Let me try to explain what I mean by that in a single sentence: Mr. Hunstal recently stated that his way of life is correct and everyone else's isn't. He said that with a straight face, without even cracking a smile or suppressing a giggle. He said it as if he meant it. That's scary, because we must punish him for his naive lamentations. That's our situation today, in very rough outline. Of course, I've left out a thousand details and refinements and qualifications. I've not mentioned that Mr. Greg Hunstal unquestionably needs a healthy dose of conflict-resolution and peer-mediation training. And I've ignored phallocentrism altogether. I've simply pointed out one key fact: He is utterly -- and I mean utterly -- stultiloquent.

So, how has the Chief helped you out there Greg? Wait a sec....did he find you on AdultFriend Finder also? Does the Chief go both ways? I guess his wife will have to find that out...

Say Chief, do you still have a good supply of wine at HQ? I was worrying that you might have used it all on the female domestic violence victim. Now that is professional!! Encouraging a female domestic victim to drink wine, in the police station!!! Did she drunk enough to actually bang you Chief?

Do any more SLA checks George? Why is is that only certain bars get checked while others have no worries at all? Any chance it has to do with the fact that they let you eat and DRINK booze while on duty, for free??

And Greg, how would an idiot like you even know about this Board? I guess the 'Chief' is getting so nervouse he is enlisting the help of jagoff residents like you to help him. My advice to you is to keep an eye on the Chief and make sure he isn't banging YOUR wife!!!

And just to claify a previous morons post....Yes, Suffolk Correction Officers (most of whom are only one level up from the skells they babysit) already passed the psych, medical, and agility tests. But CO's NEVER took the lie detector test, which OBPD cops MUST take if they were appointed in the recent years..Don't worry, that will be taken care of too...Chief, I know you are hooked up with the broad from Suffolk Civil Service...I hope you know someone in NYS Civil Service too....

Ah, morons and more morons... you think you know so much, yet you know so F'ing little...

The Suffolk County CO's are given a WAIVER from taking the lie detector test, because they are already SC CO's, and obviously they are trusted enough to be such, and therefore do not have to take that exam! Stop being such a know-nothing and call civil service yourself if you dont believe it. Then you will see just how dumb you really are, moron!

Hey Villageidiot, i like how you put the 103 after your name now. Nice touch.. It's a shame all of us CO's are still working for the beach. I like how you tried to get us in trouble with Civil Service. Its a shame you'll never work as a cop again. Not only did you screw the public, now you're trying to screw the people you worked with that have nothing to do with you being let go. You're an ass...

This is NOT a police site. It is a PUBLIC site that invites EVERYONE to write their comments or opinions

Kevin Lamm and Frank Fiorello, Why don't you 2 take your lumps like real men and move on. The Deputy Chief let you go because you guys abuse the public. That is not how we do bussiness in this department. He was a gentleman about it and assured you guys he would give favorable references. You were well with in your right to go to civil service to inquire about yout rights, and if you could be let go. But when you started to throw accusations around that was yet another case of you guys crossing the line. Just like so many times in the past. And now you wonder why you are on the outside looking in. You are at will employees, well I mean were. Now you have even less credibility than you did before. Congratulations for truely earning the title "RAT" Niether of you will ever work another law enforcement job here in the United States. Can't think clearly Chief? Too much booze and X last night? Is that why you cant pass the test Chief? Still sweating when you walk into the house George? Any day now my man.....Say, why didn't you hire the 'other Chief' back??? Anything to do with him not actually EVER BEING A POLICE OFFICER?

wrong, I'm not your chief, do not even work over there, I happen to be a Scod investigator, assigned to the recruit training staff (think back ground check), so if you are on the list, and I'm not going to check, since that would incriminate me, let me tell you, don't bother showing up for orientation. We arent interested.

By the way we've had many commissioners and other non-sworn members who arent police officers in scpd, so what?

Think about it losing all that, and resorting to posting on a anon web board where everyone just chuckles over his mistakes.

The difference between us and you and your drug using perp hairbag cronies, yes, for 99.999999% of us, the biggest offense is not signing off our memo book when our tour is over, sorry johnny boy times have changed, cops have alot more to lose, and cannot just drive a taxi and break even.

The walls are closing in George.. You can keep slandering your ex-employees all you want, it isn't going to go anywhere. And just for the record George, I won't be a scumbag like you. I won't say anything to your wife.. that was just to scare you. I would not ruin your home life, unlike what you did to your own people.

get a life weinie boy...we all knew you were blowing hot air, you got nothing, its time to evaluate your existence, you critique people on anon web message boards and tell them not to slander anyone. You threaten to reveal "dark" secrets to their loved ones, you got no stroke, not here, and certainly not in life, no one was scared, no one cared, now go move somewhere and start over.

buh bye weinie

The only slander here is what you did to the chief and his wife. You started this scumbag. no one else. You talk about someone selling X. How would you know, you never made an arrest unless it was someone peeing. Nice one.

So, whats wrong? Only doing this to scare the chief?..lol like was scared. Whats wrong? your balls creeping up into your throat? oh thats right, you don't have any balls. Let me ask you this. How does it feel knowing you will never be a cop?...ha ha ha ha

You guys are all a bunch of misfits and rejects. I have heard stories about your guys getting beat up, other guys trying to write a summons and being thrown into the water, etc. etc. You are all a bunch of wanna be wimps, just get off the computer and stop embarrassing yourselves even more than before. Also, try taking a good look at your applicants before you hire them.

sounds like he's here crying how unfair life was, and making all kinds of threats to expose people that he has no intention of pursuing, sounds like a cry for help...whats really sad is he's still calling the chief..CHIEF, like he still works for him, kevin move on relocate. The funny thing is that no one is scared. you're out of a job, get over it already loser...i want them to look in to the so called Holoween incident. It will show them how pethetic your police officer skills are. Thats why it had to be taken over and investigated by someone else. The case was reviewed and prosecuted by the DA and the adjudicated. The defendants plead out. What else is there. What, you think they will find a cover up you moron. Once again the only thing that was covered up was how poorly you investigated the incident. You can try and attack the chief and his men all you want. It will get you no where...well it did get you some where out of lawenforcement...NICCCE

DEPUTY DICK GEORGE CAN'T HELP BUT WONDER WHY YOU ALWAYS TRASH KEVIN AND FRANK? YOU SEEM TO FORGET HOW YOU FUCKED SEVERAL OTHER MEN AND WOMAN WITH YOUR" I'M GOD ATTITUDE", YOU TRASH THE REAL CHIEF EDDIE AS IF YOU ALREADY TOOK HIS POSITION. WAIT GEORGE IN ALL GOOD TIME IT WILL COME OUT - HOW YOU USED YOUR AUTHORITY TO TRY TO RUIN INNOCENT CIVILIANS AND PO'S LIVES AND CAREERS BY YOUR MANY LIES! YES YOU CAN'T EVEN TELL YOURSELF WHATS TRUE OR NOT ANYMORE. THE GOOD PEOPLE OF OCEAN BEACH WILL REVOLT

AND THROW YOUR SORRY ASS OUT" REMEMBER YOUR JUST A LONELY LITTLE PANSY ASS POL NOT A SERGEANT- YOU FAILED THE TEST TWICE! AND CERTAINLY NOT A DEPUTY CHIEF! YOU MAY BE ABLE TO THROW SMOKE IN THE EYES OF THE VILLAGE TRUSTEES WITH YOUR MANY LIES AND ACCUSATIONS, BUT I WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER WHAT YOU SAID AT THE DEPARTMENT MEETING ABOUT CHIEF 101 AND THE MEN YOU FIRED, THINGS WILL CHANGE WHEN EDDIE COMES BACK TO WORK. HE WILL BE CLEARED OF ALL YOUR ACCUSATIONS YOU MADE BEHIND HIS BACK TO THE PAST ADMINISTRATION AND THE PRESENT BOARD MEMBERS, HE WILL RISE TO THE OCCASSION AND FIRE ALL THE CORRUPT THUGS YOU PAL AROUND WITH. HE MAY EVEN MAKE YOU WEAR YOUR WHITE SHIRT AGAIN, WALK THE BEACH OR STAND IN THE MARINA- WHERE HE COULD WATCH YOU BY CAMERA..

BY NOW GEORGE YOU SHOULD KNOW WHO I AM? RUN THE IP ADDRESS IT WILL COME BACK TO THE VILLAGES ACCOUNT. WAIT YOUR NOT SMART ENOUGH TO DO THAT- THEN HAVE SOMEONE WITH SOME COMPUTER KNOWLEDGE DO IT FOR YOU!!!

I would hate to be you and have to live in a world of my own creation where cops just go around attacking people. Why dont you go and scrap the Kerry sticker off your 1991 Saab instead of worrying about the police in the least corrupt country in the world(ok maybe sweden is first)

Suffolk DA probes claims that police in Ocean Beach beat tourists; lawyer for two men says cops have "storm trooper's mentality" BY SANDRA PEDDIE NEWSDAY INVESTIGATIONS TEAM
December 20, 2006

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 71 of 304 PageID #: 3483

The Suffolk district attorney's office is investigating alleged brutality and other questionable activities in the police department of Ocean Beach, a small community on Fire Island, attorneys and village officials confirmed.

Detectives served subpoenas yesterday seeking information about excessive force and the police officers' civil service qualifications. People familiar with the investigation say police had beaten tourists visiting Ocean Beach, which draws thousands of visitors from Long Island and Manhattan every summer.

Complaints about the department going back several years prompted the probe in 2003, Suffolk District Attorney Thomas Spota said. The investigation picked up momentum after a New Jersey man, Samuel Gilberd, said he was beaten and suffered a ruptured bladder after being arrested for littering in August 2005.

Acting Village Police Chief George Hesse said he could not comment on the subpoenas until the investigation was completed. Village Mayor Joseph Loeffler, who took office in July, said he was aware of the investigation but could not comment on the allegations.

"I think we have a very good police department," he said. "I think they do a very good job. I think we have very few problems."

Dubbed the "Land of No" for its quirky prohibitions - the village once banned eating a cookie on a walkway - Ocean Beach has only two police officers full time in the winter months. The force expands in the summer, with 24 seasonal officers with varied experience and four dispatchers.

Anthony Colleluori, a Woodbury attorney who represented two men whose lawsuits resulted in confidential settlements, said of the department, "They have a storm trooper's mentality."

The investigation is the first of a police department by Spota since taking office in 2001. In an interview, he asked that anyone who experienced or witnessed excessive force to contact his office.

"I have serious concerns about the conduct and supervision of the Ocean Beach police department," Spota said. "And as a consequence, I'm going to ask a grand jury to conduct a robust probe into all aspects of this police department so that we can get to the bottom of what's occurring there."

Spota declined further comment, but people with knowledge of the investigation said current and former officers were cooperating.

While the department's supporters say police have to cope with drunken summertime revelers, court records contain allegations of excessive police force. At least seven federal and state lawsuits have been filed against the department since 1995, records show. Six resulted in confidential settlements, according to the records.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 72 of 304 PageID #: 3484

The lawsuits examined by Newsday allege what the plaintiffs described as unprovoked attacks. Amityville construction supervisor Phillip Gallina alleged that he suffered a bruised trachea after being choked by an officer in May 1995. He said he had been with a friend. Anthony Esposito, who had been arrested.

"They beat the hell out of me," Esposito said. "I said, 'I'm a lawyer. This is crazy!' It was like being in a Communist country. You had no rights." Both men were released and returned home. But Gallina saw a doctor, who told him his trachea was bruised, he said. Both men sued. Village officials denied the allegations, and their cases were settled. Gallina received $90,000 and Esposito $15,000, they said.

In the Gilberd case, filed earlier this year, Gilberd said he was beaten after being arrested for littering in August 2005. In an interview, his wife, Kana Manglapus, said she found him bleeding on the floor of the police department.

"He was completely unconscious and laying on his stomach," she said. "I asked what happened. Police said that he got upset and a clock fell on him and that they called paramedics."

Gilberd was rushed to the hospital for emergency surgery on a ruptured bladder. She said he remembered little of what happened to him, except "that they were kicking him very, very hard."

Police charged Gilberd with riotous conduct, but that charge was later dropped.

Ocean Beach's year-round residents defended their police department Wednesday, a day after attorneys and village officials confirmed the Suffolk district attorney is investigating complaints of brutality.

"I think it's overblown," said Joel Silverberg, chairman of the Fire Island community's architectural review board, and an Ocean Beach resident for 35 years. "I think it's a mountain out of a miniature molehill."

Silverberg and other residents acknowledged that while "periodically something happens in the summertime," locally, the police department has a positive reputation.

"Occasionally, someone gets hurt and decides to sue the police department for whatever reason," said Gerard Stoddard, president of the Fire Island Association. With the influx of summer residents and drinking, "that's going to happen," he said.

"To me, they understand what the problems are, and are reasonable about trying to keep the peace and strike the balance," Stoddard said.

The complaints against the tiny Ocean Beach police department stretch back to 2003. Among them: a New Jersey man who suffered a ruptured bladder after being arrested for littering in 2005, and an Amityville construction supervisor who says his trachea was bruised after an officer choked him.

Acting Village Police Chief George Hesse and Village Mayor Joseph Loeffler did not return calls seeking comment Wednesday. Both have declined comment, citing the ongoing investigation.

In addition to questions of excessive force, the district attorney is probing the police officers' civil qualifications. Year-round police officers must take a civil service exam in addition to fulfilling other requirements. The 24 officers who work on a seasonal basis don't have to take a civil service exam but must possess a Police Officer Training Certificate and pass other evaluations.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 74 of 304 PageID #:

In the eyes of local residents, Ocean Beach has never been able to escape its reputation as the "Land of No." Stoddard said that after drugs became prevalent in the 1960s and '70s, officials decided to crack down by getting tough on the small things. For a time, even eating a cookie on a walkway was prohibited. The "Land of No" name stuck.

"And there's a lot of built-in antagonism that resulted," Stoddard said.

Ocean Beach, one of the island's two largest communities, had a year-round population of just 146 in 2005, according to census figures. But in the summer, those numbers swell to 6,000 in Ocean Beach and about 25,000 islandwide.

At the only store open in Ocean Beach during the winter months, CJ's general store and restaurant, one resident, who did not want to be identified, said, "I've never seen one cop out of line. It's coming from a bunch of people that come out here on the weekends and get all liquored up and think they can do whatever they want."

DEFENSE OF JUSTICIATION

When a Police Officer puts on that blue uniform it doesn't come with a big red "S" on the chest. They are not Supermen and they are not punching bagg. For all you armchair lawyers, and those who have no knowledge of the law, let me remind you that the N.Y.S. Penal Law, Secton 35, the Defense of Justification, states that a person may not use physical force to resist arrest (Sec.35.37) and that a police officer, when he reasonable believes a person has committed an offense (ag defined in Sec. 10.00 Sub.1), may use physical force he believes reasonable and necessary to overcome any resistance while effecting an arrest of an individual (Sec. 35.30). The amount of force necessary is usually determined by the person being arrested. If the person complies with the officers directions then no physical force is necessary. The more a person resists, the more force the officer, or officers, have to use. If the person suffers injuries while he is resisting arrest, it's his own fault and if the officers suffered injuries as a result of the resistance, the person can be charged with other crimes. Once the person being arrested is, under control and handcuffed, no futher physical force is justified. If there is a complaint of excessive force, the arresting officers must be able to articulate why physical force was use and if it was reasonable and necessary. I'm sure Mr. Spota is aware of this and will investigate any allegation of excessive force on a case by case basis. If it can be proved that the amount of force used by an officer was excessive, that is, over and above what was reasonable and necessary, or not in the course of his official capacity, then the officer may have a problem. In the words of Mr. Spota; "We must also remember to fight for those who protect us. With increasing frequency police officers are considered fair game by criminals and are being assaulted on a daily basis. All too often defendants who assault these officers have been treated far too leniently. Simply put, a police officer performing his or her lawful duty does not assume the risk of being intentionally injured. Those who physically injure police officers are going to be prosecuted to the fullest extent of our law."

You sound smart for someone that must be really dumb, ignorant, or misinformed. The offense in this scenario was littering. I'm sure it took some real force to subdue that perp. By the way what is "JUSTICIATION" anyway? Keep up that lawyer nightschool - maybe you'll make it as a paralegal someday

Here Here! Enough is enough. It's not a easy spot to be in when the lawyers can say whatever they want and the cops have to say no comment. The police can not defend themselves in the press or on TV. They are told by there lawyers not to comment. The Newsday article states something from 10 years ago. Well there's some pattern there! Give the cops a break! Page three, a full page! Insurance companies settle these cases because it's cheaper than going to court.

Also leave Andy out of this, There were no hookers at his stag party and everyone paid for themselves. Let's end this babble and let this blog die as a christmas present to all the brave men and women who served and continue to serve on the Ocean Beach Police Department.

Penal Law, Secton 35, the Defense of Justification, states that a person may not use physical force to resist arrest (Sec. 35.37) and that a police officer, when he reasonable believes a person has committed an offense (as defined in Sec. 10.00 Sub.1), may use physical force he believes reasonable and necessary to overcome any resistance while effecting an arrest of an individual (Sec. 35.30). The amount of force necessary is usually determined by the person being arrested. If the person complies with the officers directions then no physical force is necessary. The more a person resists, the more force the officer, or officers, have to use. If the person suffers injuries while he is resisting arrest, it's his own fault and if the officers suffered injuries as a result of the resistance, the person can be charged with other crimes. Once the person being arrested is, under control and handcuffed, no futher physical force is justified. If there is a complaint of excessive force, the arresting officers must be able to articulate why physical force was use and if it was reasonable and necessary. I'm sure Mr. Spota is aware of this and will investigate any allegation of excessive force on a case by case basis. If it can be proved that the amount of force used by an officer was excessive, that is, over and above what was reasonable and necessary, or not in the course of his official capacity, then the officer may have a problem. In the words of Mr. Spota; " We must also remember to fight for those who protect us. With increasing frequency police officers are considered fair game by criminals and are being assaulted on a daily basis. All too often defendants who assault these officers have been treated far too leniently. Simply put, a police officer performing his or her lawful duty does not assume the risk of being intentionally injured. Those who physically injure police officers are going to be prosecuted to the fullest extent of our law."

You sound smart for someone that must be really dumb, ignorant, or misinformed. The offense in this scenario was littering. I'm sure it took some real force to subdue that perp. By the way what is "JUSTICIATION" anyway? Keep up that lawyer nightschool - maybe you'll make it as a paralegal someday

I guess you don't know how to read...check your spelling again jackass

Looks like the fired cops have moved on AND grown up.

If the charges they are making are proven in court, let's hope the perps-in-blue are arrested and prosecuted to the fullest extent allowed by law.

And when the trial is over I have a feeling you are going to owe the fired cops an applogy.

who cares about this BS civil suit. Seasonal/part time Skells shouldnt be working and taking O/T away in the first place. They have no rights to keep working, they can be cut loose at the direction of the department any time they want to. There's no vested interest in these part timers.

I'm not well versed in the organizational structure of OBPD, but please correct me if I'm wrong. Isn't there only 2 fulltime positions in OB? So any officer who serves there is a part timer. Or am I just misinformed?

Yes, you are right...

Chief, how did your wife react to the stories of you boning those beach tramps in your office?? And hanging out with Mitch the drug dealer??

Your crimes will soon be brought to light, and you and your lackeys (including J.L.) will be collared. BTW, why did you let an UNCERTIFIED person (never certified by MPTC as a police officer) wear a uniform and sidearm???? Maybe because of who his family is????

Four Ocean Beach cops expected to surrender BY SANDRA PRODIE sandra.peddie@newsday.com

March 27, 2007, 12:01 AM EDT

Four members of the Ocean Beach Police Department have been ordered to surrender in Suffolk County Court in Riverhead Tuesday morning on criminal charges, the Suffolk County district attorney's office said Monday night.

DA spokesman Robert Clifford would not offer names or more details, but sources familiar with the investigation said one of the men to be charged is Acting Police Chief George Hesse.

The department has been the subject of a Suffolk County grand jury probe since December. District Attorney Thomas Spota said at the time that he had "serious concerns about the conduct and supervision of the Ocean Beach Police Department."

Last week, five former Ocean Beach police officers claimed in a federal lawsuit that they were wrongfully fired by Hesse after he and his allies on the force covered up police brutality, associated with drug dealers and drank while on duty.

They also alleged in their suit that while on duty Nesse had sex with women and ordered on-duty officers to chauffeur him to and from his encounters.

"We wouldn't go along with his games over there," said one of the officers, Thomas Snyder. "We wanted to do the job the right way."

Hesse could not be reached for comment Monday night, but last week denied any wrongdoing. "I'm just blown away by this," he said of the lawsuit.

The village's attorney could not be reached for comment.

There are only 24 members of the police force; all but two of them are seasonal.

Spota said in December that his office had fielded complaints about the department since 2003. The investigation picked up steam after a New Jersey man, Samuel Gilberd, suffered a ruptured bladder after what he said was a beating by Ocean Beach police in August 2005.

At least seven federal and state lawsuits alleging unprovoked attacks by the police have been filed against the department since 1995. Six resulted in confidential settlements, according to records. Gilberd's suit is pending.

At the time, Ocean Beach Mayor Joseph Loeffler said the settlements did not indicate wrongdoing on the part of the Police Department, but were "an economic decision."

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 94 of 304 PageID #:

The tiny village on Fire Island, known for its quirky prohibitions, spans 10 blocks. Its year-round population is only 138, according to the 2000 U.S. Census, but that number swells to 5,000 to 6,000 in the summer months.

Some village residents expressed their support for Hesse and the Police Department following news of last week's lawsuit.

Doug Meyer, a contractor who said he has lived in Ocean Beach for 30 years, said, "Any time I call these guys up, they were right there, all the time. There was never any time I had to wait."

He added, "I've never even thought about a hint of corruption with George. I've never been approached, and I work all over the village."

Jeanne Jaeger, who runs the community theater with her husband, described Hesse as even-handed and easy-going. "Ocean Beach is the Land of No. With George, it's 'We'd rather you didn't.'"

Douglas Wigdor, the lawyer representing the five former officers, offered a different view. He said his clients were "extremely happy" about the grand jury indictments. "It's definitely a step in the right direction."

Ocean Beach chief, cops in court on assault charges BY SANDRA PEDDIE

sandra.peddie@newsday.com

March 27, 2007, 2:20 PM EDT

Four members of the Ocean Beach Police Department, including the acting chief, were arraigned Tuesday morning in connection with what prosecutors say was the brutal beating of a New Jersey man in police custody in 2005.

The Fire Island village's Acting Chief George Hesse pleaded not guilty to first-degree assault, first-degree gang assault, offering a false instrument for filing, falsifying business records, unlawful imprisonment, reckless endangerment and other charges. Suffolk County Court Judge Barbara Kahn ordered him held on $100,000 bail.

Suffolk prosecutors said the charges stem from Hesse's vicious attack on Samuel Gilberd, who was brought into the police's headquarters after being kicked out of a bar. Suffolk Assistant District Attorney Robert Biancavilla said Hesse beat Gilberd "to the extent that he suffered extensive injuries" including a ruptured bladder that required emergency surgery.

Hesse's attorney, William Keahon of Islandia, said his client was innocent and that Gilberd was violently drunk that night. Keahon said Gilberd hurt himself by "falling and hitting a number of items." He said Gilberd made up the charges in order to help a civil suit he has filed against the village.

The courtroom was packed with Ocean Beach residents and police officers supporting Hesse and the police department. Mayor Joseph Loeffler, who sat near the officers, declined comment, as did several other village residents.

Two Suffolk County police officers, Joseph Verdi and John Ventura, said they had worked with Hesse and were convinced of his innocence.

"I worked there two years," said Verdi. "I've never seen Geroge lay hands on anybody."

Ventura, who said he had worked with Hesse in the Islip Harbor patrol, said, "He was always a gentleman."

Verdi added, "If I felt he was guilty, I wouldn't be here."

Ocean Beach Police Officer Arnold Hardman was indicted on the same charges as Hesse, except for the counts of assault. Prosecutors said he did nothing to get Gilberd medical attention as he law unconscious after his beating and helped cover up Hesse's brutality by lying to medical personnel who arrived to treat Gilberd, and by filing false bogys criminal charges against Gilberd. Those charges have since been dismissed.

Officers Paul Carollo and William Emburey were also charged with official misconduct, reckless endangerment, hindering the prosecution and conspiracy for not informing medical personnel of the extent and nature of Gilberd's injuries. Kahn set bail for Hardman, Carollo and Emburey at $10,000 cash or bond. All the defendants posted bail and were released.

Emburey's attorney, John Ray of Miller Place, said his client was working his first night as an Ocean Beach Police Officers when Gilberd received his injuries, and that he wasn't even in the police station house during the alleged attack. "He's been sucked into this unfairly," Ray said. "It's an extreme over reaction by the district attorney."

At a news conference after the arraignment, Suffolk District Attorney Thomas Spota said prosecutors are investigating several similar complaints of police brutality and other crimes in the village's police force, which he called "a police department that was out of control." He said he held village officials responsible for their inaction on the complaints, saying they "either knew or should have known" about the corruption in the police department.

"It should have been reigned in. It was not reigned in." Spota said. "But I can assure you as of now, it will be reigned in."

Ocean Beach Police Mess

Boy this is long overdue, I'm surprised that Ed Paradiso didn't get dragged in too, because he should have. I spent many a summer in Ocean Beach and saw for myself just how that that Gestapo Police Department operated. They're nothing but a bunch of square badges with Storm Trooper attitudes. I don't know why anyone would want to summer in that village with these cop wanna be rejects running things. How about the time Paradiso appointed one of his buddies as a Sgt. and the guy never even took the civil service test and took everyone down to the beach and had them firing their guns into the ocean, scaring the living hell out of everyone. The entire Ocean Beach police department should be completely disbanded and taken over by the SCPD who could reestablish their barrier beach command right there in Ocean Beach.

this post is for the retard who wrote we shouldnt comment on OB cause we dont live there. I dont think you have to personally know these cops or live on ocean beach to realize there is a serious problem there!! I blame the part time police officer program as much as the department as a whole. Its no wonder you have part time war heros heavy handling people for 3 months a year and then flipping burgers in the winter time. No union, no accountability, and limited training for these rejects. IM NOT SURPRISED THEY ARE ALL OVER THE PAPER !!!

I have no dog in this fight. I'm 53 years old and a retired finacial guy. I can tell you personally from village mayors that these constables are lazy and greedy and will band against anybody who denies the 3 day workweek or 100g plus salary. I have openly seen them mock the mayors. This is the hubris of their culture. Maybe this is not the case here because I'm sure the

There are good cops and the idiots who act like horses asses. I try very hard not to laugh in there face. Just tell me your class rank officer? High School or college will due? And than duck! The guys on the expressway have some of the most outdated and hysterical acts I have ever seen! They even got hayseeds getting into the act. Only in NY!

Lamm failed his psych three times and has the handwriting ability of a five year old. Fiorello thought he was fighting a war against invading bike riders from OBP. Snyder is just not very smart. Carter, well, I always thought he was a good guy. Too bad. He lost a few friends. As for the other ones, very poor social skills, professionally and personally. All this was known by the people who live and work in OB, BUT they were too decent to make someone feel bad and reject them. That's what you get for being nice. When it became apparent that pobody wanted to work with them, there was suddenly a corruption problem. Lamm and Fiorello, with the combined police experience of three years and less then ten arrests between them knone of which were for serious misdemeanors or felonies), thought they knew the profession of being a police officer. Any 'real' policeman will tell you that learning this profession never stops. I guess, these two knew it all. To sum it all up, Lamm and Fiorello were under the impression that they worked in a high crime area where, at any minute, lives would be lost by some random, violent act. They treated the public, and by 'public' i mean hardworking, tax paying people on VACATION, like they committed a crime by having a cocktail, riding their bikes, or laughing too loud at a joke in the back streets. Synder lives his life by just trying to accomplish something. Rest assure, the Islip Town Parks are safe from all the crime that plagues these natural refuges. I'm surprised at Carter because I have seen him do the right thing on numerous occasions. I am truly disappointed. As for NOFI, just interview him about anything, you'll see what I mean

The presumption of innocence

I thank God that in the United States of America we have the presumption of innocence.

The D.A. recieved a complaint and brought it to the grand jury. The grand jury based on the information they were presented indicted. Remember the grand jury is all one sided. The officers appeared before the court and were arraigned. The officers plead not quilty and want their day in court. They have a right to have their case heard before a jury of their peers. If found guilty by the jury and only if,,, they will stand convicted. But not by the meer allegations of Mr. Gilbard, The D.A. or the media

Now lets keep in mind that the complaintant had a .33 blood alcohol level, was thrown out of 3 different bars before having any contact with the police. I am quite sure he had a phisical confrontation with another drunk or two that night before the police allegedly beat him. EMS had administered narcan because he appeared to be a violent overdose victim as well.

Then we had the D.A's investigator/henchmen do their half witted job of an investigation. Who did they inetrview, Dave Gerden the deaf, blind retired detective who is only worried about his pension. Who isnt beyond perjury to to keep himself out of the spotlight. He not only worked with these dirtbag investigators. But used to brag about how they all used to brutalize people and get confessions. How ironic!

Of course one of the investigators has a personal axe to grind in Ocean Beach. Since his son has been arrested and had many contacts with the local police. Isnt that so Mr. Tortaglia? But it must be the Ocean Beach Storm Trooper Police not your son hu???

So lets keep in mind the presumption of innocence that these officers are afforded. When they are aquitted I am sure newsday will only have a small article on page five and not the front page.

So lets wait and see what all the witnesses have to say under oath and what the jury vote is!!!

SIR, how can you impugn the celebrated integrity of the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office by suggesting one of it's investigators, Mr Pete Tartaglia would compromise his oath of office by seeking revenge on those who have arrested his son?

The Suffolk County District Attorney's Office has the finest collection of lawyers, civilian investigators, and Suffolk County police detectives under one roof that would make even the FBI and Scotland Yard drool with envy.

Look how District Attorney Spota has been unearthing the long buried bodies of corruption and has brought the guilty to justice, and has done so without fear or favor to past allegiances.

The DA is a breath of fresh air in Suffolk County - just don't stand down wind of him.

Mr. Spota has gone beyond what others before him have done to ensure quality performance in his office.

He has drawn deep from his early days in the District Attorney's Office when he was a homicide prosecutor, and brought into his office the informants he used in a celebrated case who is now a ranking SCPD police officer. That young man, now older man is in charge of ALL the investigations that come to the attention of the District Attorney.

Mr. Spota should be commended for his courage that he could be crticized by those who would question his sanity by hiring on as his chief investigator who was once his informant, and is reported to have a checkered record while a Suffolk police officer.

It is justice and only justice that Mr.Spota courageously concerns himself with and nothing else. What else would a prosecutor who once said to a news reporter, and documented in an article - in substance: 'I am not concerned with becoming a judge as those before me have done, but want to be the DA because it gives me the power of depriving persons of their liberty.

The man is a nut who has surrounded himself with people as crazy and as morally corrupted as he is.

Oh please, enough of the reciting of the preamble to the constitution with all this babble about there innocence and there day in court!! It is absolutely the job of the DA to make alligations of criminality..uh hello, thats what the DA's office does. I dont care if they are guilty or not. I want to know how a part time nobody was aloud to spin out of control. Why wasnt any of these seasonals explained that if they get jammed up doing something stupid, they weren't going to have any backing. Seems to me some of these part timers have a "Training Day" picture in there little minds about what full time policing is all about....and like the movies, ITS COMPLETELY WRONG!!

I AGREE AGENT SMITH

I, TOO, am concerned with the question how those who have been charged have been allowed to spin out of control for so long. Yes, that is the question that needs to be asked. Mr. Spota has been in office for more than five years, and he suddenly discovers this?

Things that have been charged in the indictment can ONLY happen IF misconduct has been ignored over a long period of time.

I have said in other Forums that I have no idea if the charges are true or not. I have also offered an uniformed opinion based on experience that if I had to make a choice as to guilt or innocence, I would give in a 70-30 leaning towards guilty.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 106 of 304 PageID #:

The poster FREE THE FOUR if he believes this matter with find truth a trial. Not with a Suffolk County jury and a friendly judge presiding.

The problems of Suffolk County "Justice" are systemic to the system and it has been passed down from prosecutor to prosecutor without interruption since the brief tenure of DA Henry O' Brien.

Mr. O'Brien was removed from office with the able assistance of the them police commissioner and his detectives from his homicide unit by gathering evidence to defame him by attempting to gather evidence of his alleged homosexuality. That much I am a witness to as I was asked to assist in that endeavor by an organized crime capo who was helping the detectives under the direction of the then police commissioner, the organized crime figure believed he was working on the side of the police and told me they needed to get rid of him because "He (O'Brien) didn't work well with them)

Should there come a time I may be asked to swear to a lawful body that what I have said is true, I would do so without a grant of immunity as I know it to be true as I know it. I just won't say it to any Suffolk County grand jury under the control of a Suffolk District Attorney.

These charges that I have made were in part addressed by the NYS Commission of Investigation Report of April 1989, when the Commission reported that there had been a long-standing fued between the police department and District Attorney O'Brien.

May I also point out that a Lt.James Hickey, who testified at the trial of the case that causes me to write my many postings of the charges I have made of the lack of integrity of the district attorney's office and the police department had been been accused of Suffolk County Judge Namm in 1992 of being a police officer who tortured and permanently maimed to get a 'confession' from a suspect in a suspect. That matter was brought to the attention of the police department and was not investigated by the police department or the then district attorney, although the suspect was later awarded 85K in a civil trial regarding this matter.

No, I am not making this up, it is a matter of record. Judge Namm is no longer a judge and is retired in North Carolina as he didn't receive his own party's nomination for reelection. That was accomplsihed by the SCPD PBA, and a private attorney named Thomas J. Spota, who was at the time the counsel for one of the Detectives Union.

It is not the charges made by the District Attorney, regarding the OBPD police officers that concern me, as they may be meritorous, it is the conduct and motives of the district attorney I question.

The dirty DA and his dirtbag henchmen

Wow,

Thank you all for filling me in on Mr Spotta and his henchmen. As I have figured through out this, was that there is a hidden agenda. Yes I believe in that truth and justice will prevail. But you are confirming my doubts about the DA investigators. Perhaps the State AG or the FBI need to look into look into him and his henchmen? I know these brutal ex cops and detectives in his office have a super high rate of confessions. Maybe it is from beating people routinely far more brutally than the Ocean Beach Officers stand accused of. But that is why Suffolk County also has the distinction of haveing the highest rate over overturned convictions in the state as well.

Now I am sure that Mr. Tartaglia dosent have his finger prints on any of the investigation. You can bet your bottom dollar that he called the shots from the sidleines for his dirty cronies. Why because of his local joe shitbag son who has had many dealing with the local police.

Maybe I am a bit naive, But I do believe in our justice system. Regardless of how the DA and his henchmen pervert it. That is why we have appeals, and they are not heard in the same court as that has jurisdiction over the case.

Heeeeessssssssss!!!!

Hi Frank,

That is you posting the 'Heeeesssssssseeeee!!!!!!' responses, isn't it you sly devil??? Say how-do-you-spell your last name Frank? F-E-L-A-I-T-O? I thought so.

What's with the attacks on George's wife? Did you forget to get your rabies shot? Or are you hot for her? Never did see you hanging out with any ladies at the beach, figured that were because you must have been hanging out with Keven Lamm, so I don't think that you were hot for her, or any GIRLS...lol.Even the Mafia dosen't attack families.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 110 of 304 PageID #:

Guess getting bumped up from an auxiliary cop to a seasonal/rent-a-cop was pretty heady for you...must have cost you a fortune to pass the psychological test. You looked pretty sharp writing all of those tickets though, your version of COMSTAT? Keeping OB safe from grime? Guess that you were working on getting bumped up to 'meter maid?' I figure that they forgot to tell you in the academy that being the top producer in a police department doesn't give you any validation to be insubordinate to your boss (Sgt. Hesse) even though you surely did display this type of behavior. Yep, Georgie did make some mistakes; he should have documented your behavior and started a supervisor's paper trail then.

You guys weren't fired, but not asked back (big difference). Had you applied for other part time positions at other police agencies you would have receive a letter of reference from OB...don't think so now,. Must have been tough not getting that position with the FBI. What was it again...'truck driver?'

You looked smoking on TV being interviewed. Seems that you accused your brother officers of (to use you words)..."Cops were drinking at night and going to work the next morning."

...yep, sounds very much like you were accusing them of having "Hangovers!!!"

nd the part where you stated that..."They were carrying guns around little kids." ??? So were you for that matter. But as one wag remarked "at least the guns weren't loaded!" We all know where YOU want to unload your gun after that statement, don't we?

Too bad that you don't get it, thanks to the fearless five corruption fighters, who only brought their complainants to the surface after they were not asked back (they worked at OB forever, and never noticed corruption before this?) have played into the hands of the DA. He does have complaints going back a number of years, but none of those officers work at OB anymore, the new guys are going to pay for the sins of the past so that the DA can put a few notches on his gun. The only cops that were here then are you guys and the chief, E.P., Sgt George The fat, bald guy Lonnie, and Andy. That was some bachelors party...never saw sp many girls? On the beach that is.

I'd be careful about saying that George hung around with a known drug dealer...who's that, everyone in town? OK we all know who the DD allegedly is, don't we? Problem is that he's been over there forever, he's never been arrested and he has no convictions as a druggie. Leaving yourself open for a libel suit there Frankie if you try to name, names. Gee Frank all those people who ever got a ticket, or hate cops or even 'Fulltime' cops who hate part timers for stealing their over time are watching and laughing their heads off. Never thought that one malcontent could bring so much discredit down on the heads of his co-workers who are trying to accomplish a difficult job, Wow. We'll see you later, can't wait to see more of your writings...

This sounds like the same type of polictical abuse. Lets not interview anyone and speculate everything. All I want are HEADLINES. Lets try and ruin this department. What do we care. They are nobody and know no one. They don't have the money to fight these charges. Lets get the department abolished and suck the town dry of all its tax money so they can pay me and my men for these bullsh--t investigations. I want to be more popular :evil:

Hey Mr. Spota. You're liable for your statements too. Don't think you can hide behind your detectives piss poor investigation and try and blame them. You are responsisble for their actions. This sounds like a vandeta to me. You are going to looooooose.

UNTIL THE FACTS ARE HEARD

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 112 of 304 PageID #:

My friends, some of you say wait until the facts are heard before forming an opinion. that would be OK in a normal society. But I will tell you that the Pope could come in and testify, and the Big Guy himself can come in floating over the floor and testify in this case, and it may not make a twit of difference to a brain dead jury.

Folks, I have seen it up close and personal.

Many of those in the DA office that call themselves investigators have been drawn from the ranks of Spota's legions of his campaign army.

Something like that HBO comedy ENTOURAGE. They hangers on are like those little fish that attach themselves to whales and sharks and get a scrap of food from time to time.

Just don't count on justice in Suffolk County.

how did I ruin my point? I was speaking of people who hang on and then make important decisions. the point is that there are many hangers-on in Spota's office that are now doing his investigations and locking up a lot of people who maybe shouldn't have been arrested in the first place. And I think you know who I am talking about by NOW! And there is more than ONE.

One fellow, in particular, could have walked a half of block to the east and visit his chum the burglar. He could walk one block to the north and visit his other friend the burglar, and fellow snitch in that BIG case 28 years ago.

That fellow always seems to be an 'on the spot(a)' character for the DA to use when he needs him.

Don't be surprised if Spota is or wasn't trying to position this fellow to be the next police commissioner. I hope he tries it because that will make the poop fly. If you know how the police department works, then you will know the stories will be leaked like the water over Niagra Falls.

They are nobody and know no one. They don't have the money to fight these charges. Hey Mr. Spota. You're liable for your statements too. Don't think you can hide behind your detectives piss poor investigation and try and blame them. You are responsisble for their actions. This sounds like a vandeta to me. You are going to looooooose.

You dont have a say, its a matter of going to grand jury, any and all hearings involving the case, selecting the jurors, and awaiting your court date. I've never gone to a hearing or testified in trial the same year as the arrest I made took place in.

WHAT DOES YOUR QUESTION MEAN?

I fail to understand the meaning of the question of the above post? In Suffolk County I would wait 200years to go to trial if I was innocent. On the other hand I would want it to be over in 2 minutes.

Two hundred years is just about right to get from the DA what they have, or supposed to have on you.

They will and have hid everything they possibly could so you can't get a fair trial. They hid it because the DA, his detectives, and their witnesses were lying.

THE DA LIES ALL THE TIME

Here are some words of advice:

If you have ANY potential witnesses in this case that aren't already secured by the defense team, I would strongly suggest you try to put them on one page and interview them as quickly as you can. The minute you ask for a witness list they will shut you down. They will send their goons out to intimidate witnesses not to speak to you. If it isn't too late already.

Ask for everything you can think of. Nothing is too small. Document your asking for it as it may come in handy some day if you should need an appeal.

In all candor, I have to say I have no very strong opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the OBPD cops. I do have strong opinions about the DA that if he has his way you will NOT get a fair trial.

These first class humps will bend and twist the law to keep exculpatory evidence away from you. If you get too close they will try to figure out a way to stop you from doing so.

I can give you a list of what they have done in the case I have been posting about and how they hid evidence under the color of law. It will take up some of your time just to read it.

At least know this: If the OBPD cops are guilty – take some comfort in the fact that your accusers are worse than you are.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 117 of 304 PageID #:

We had to fight for everything we got, and we still didn't get it in time to properly defend the case. In fact one lying critical witness I called early on resulted in a phone call from a Detective Lewis of Spota's DA squad telling me I intimidated his witness and not to speak to him again without a letterhead from an attorney, or a subpoena. The guy lied and the lies were kept from us until it was too late to gather up the witness who would 100% confirm that. He fled the very next day I went for a person to person visit after speaking to him on the phone the previous night.

There more, much more like that of willfully hiding evidence for no other reason than not to give you a fair trial.

READ THE 1989 SIC REPORT

If you really want to know what you are up against. The SIC brought in a drug informant under a grant of immunity and he testified as to how he lied at the encouragement of the DA and detectives. His name is Kevin Eason. His testimony only supported what some decent and not so decent cops testified to about the wrongdoing of the DA office.

The DA recaptures Mr. Eason, gives him immunity and puts him before their own grand jury and Eason testifies that he LIED before the SIC.

Naturally, the SIC wants to speak to this fellow again to find out just what is going on. It is obvious, of course. When the go to look for him they find Eason has been moved out of NYS at the expense of the DA office, or more directly, the taxpayer. He went MIA.

There may be some to jump up and say that is ancient history. Well, my friends, history usually gives valuable lessons. The lesson it has given the DA and SCPD is that you can do most anything and get away with it. When the dust settles it will only make the criminals hiding behind the law more bolder and outrageous than they already were. And they have now had 18 years to 'improve' on it.

YOU HAVE MET SATAN

Beware latest victims of DA Spota- you will soon enter into the middle of hell without a asbestos suit.

They will do everything legal and illegal to keep evidence away from you so you cannot properly defend yourselves.

In the case I refer to they did the following:

Although the DA would allege the crime kicked off at 12:10AM, they only supplied us with the police radio transmissions beginning at 1:11AM.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 118 of 304 PageID #:

They only gave us the 3rd Pct radio band and fought as long as they could NOT to give us the countywide band that would have identified a police witness on the scene that would give favorable evidence for the defense.

When we got the countywide band, they hid the identity of the police officer from us as the defendant could not recognize the voice as it was six or more years earlier.

They refused to give us the police roll call for the night in question so we couldn't identify that cop.

When they were ordered to give us the roll call they did so with ALL the names crossed out, save one, and he wasn't the witness we were looking for.

When we received the radio taped transmissions in the discovery portion of the case we received them WITHOUT the time stamping CAD reports that are always given to the person that issues a subpoena for those records. In this case it was the DA, and he did not give them to us.

When we did receive the CAD reports, and only after the DA was caught lying by our lawyer, the DA requested that the time reports be not entered into evidence for the jury to compare as to the conversations and when they were made.

The DA could only provide the court with a condensed version of the radio transmissions as they are digital and only tape to sound. Critical conversations that would strongly tend to support the defense would be drastically altered to give a jury the appearance that something very wrong was going on. In one particular instance of the DA distorting the evidence is two conversations that were separated by 80 seconds of actual running time. It tended to support to support the DA 's theory, and not even at that as 80 seconds was too long a time. The time span was actually 8 mins and 59 seconds.

The DA held back vital grand jury testimony of a witness who did nothing but lie. The DA and police own radio transmissions supported that beyond ANY Question of ANY doubt. The fact is the witness didn't tell a lie per se, he only told the lie the DA and cops wanted him to tell. The witness would say a critical event actually occurred at 12:15 and NOT at 12 52 which was evidenced by at least three radio transmissions and the police officer who they tried to keep his identity from us. Had they given us this information in a timely manner, and not told me NOT to speak to their witness, I would have had time to secure a witness who would have totally debunked the lies of the lying witness.

This is only \mathbf{z} small portion of what they are capable of.

These people you will meet are not only scgs, they are reusable ones that are pulled off and handed to the next guy and the next guy to used to have sex with sheep.

Each time you have to go to court the first thing you should do is to take a very hot and very long shower and burn the clothes before bringing them into your homes.

Kevin Lamm and Frank Fiorello,

Just think about it, you have much more at stake here than the accused four. You seey our lies and half truths will come home to roost. While the accused will eventually be free when the truth comes out. You guys will be held accountable for you lies. It is called perjury, it is a crime and punishable by jail time. Oh and the whistle blower act that you are trying to hide behind. That may work if you came forward with anything of subtsance. But you decided come forward with allegations that were non existant. This was after you were not invited back for your gross incompitence.

THEY CAN ONLY BE PERJURERS IF THEY LIE FOR THE DEFENSE. LYING FOR THE DA IS OK.

WRONG! IF THEY ARE WITNESSES FOR THE DA IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR THEM TO BE LIARS. YOU CAN'T BE A LIAR IF YOU ARE TESTIFYING FOR THEM.

The only way they can become liars is if they recant. Forget about it if they don't.

What About Scpd Complaints?

THERE HAVE BEEN TWO RECENT SERIOUS COMPLAINTS MADE AGAINST SCPD. ONE WAS A 59 YR OLD HAIRDRESSER BEATEN SEVERLY IN CORAM WHILE ALLEGEDLY PROSCRUISING? I MEAN THE GUY WAS A JEWISH GUY WITH THE FIRST NAME OF RAFAEL, AND HE WAS A HAIRDRESSER?

Now what do you think are the chances are that he was not interested in girls. Straight hairdressers can get all the booty they want, and for free. This guy gets picked up at 5 30PM for cruising?

Spota has his boys out there right now - if he isn't tied up on Fire Island, and they are ready to go. First they have to check in with the PBA before doing their job.

Thats because nothing happened. DA made up charges and made up testimony to indict these men thinking someone would roll. doesnt look like thats going to happen. Bye bye tom spota.

what the f@&k?

Information is 6.5 hours old, and no response from the security guards? Nothing about alleged drug dealers, nothing about how they were wrongfully terminated, and nothing about how nobody wanted to work with them. I am curious about one thing; The spokesman for the DA's office stated that 'The decision (Judge Kahn) is under review'. Do they mean that the DA's office is reviewing the Courts decision for possible investigation. Or are they reviewing their major f*#k up in the investigation and prosecution of this case? Any feedback?

Not Fair To Nifong

Shame on the poster for calling Spota Nifong 2. Nifong doesn't deserve to be in that company. It is like saying Mother Teresa is Hitler II.

The case is under 'review'. I think Judge Kahn has finally realized that she is really a judge and judge's don't have to take their orders and make their rulings before consulting with the DA. I am sure Tom is furious and is already making plans to have the judge transferred to a civil term.

I am really shocked she had the onions to make this ruling. Not only do the people have to place a defendant at a scene of the crime, they must show independant evidence that the person was there and committed a crime. It would have been far easier for her to strictly interpret the law as she saw it and deny the motion. A tip of the hat to the judge who followed her oath of office and did what she thought was right.

This will be a major blow to the district attorney's prestige, if you can believe he has any beyond Rte 110. Why do you think 31 former prosecutor's signed the Amicus Brief for Marty Tankleff, and many other respected members of the legal community lent their names to the defense of Tankleff. Because they know Spota is a BUM!

Fantasy Island-the Plane, The Plane

In the updated version of the TV series Fantasy Island we have Tom and Jim in the role of Ricardo Montenbalm and Herve Vilicheze(sic). Tom is Tatu who is in the form of a Troll, and Jim is like the Devil in the movie "The Passion of The Christ". Always lurking around in the background, hiding behind Olive Trees. Letting it all play out. Something like the guy who sets up the jobs for others to do with little risk to himself, and then shares in the profits.

So when anytime the DA needs a Fantasy Island scenario we have Tommy Tatu yelling out to Jimmy the Devil - The plane, the plane, the plane, boss, the plane. And they both swing into action writing their next fiction screenplay.

Tom Is Great Story Teller.

Tommy Boy has a lot of experience in making things up as he goes along. He can reach back to the days where he was in charge of the MOUSEKETEERS, and bring some of his people back for an encore.

They could call the show: Have Lie, Will Tell It.

The State Of Affairs In Suffolk County

Quote:

IMHO, the decision where the appellate court reversed the murder conviction of the person convicted of stabbing another person to death was a no-brainer for the court to decide – that is if I interpret the law correctly. It seems very clear to me that the trial judge was obligated to inform the jury that intoxication is an affirmative defense for a person accused of a murder. It all has to do with intent. And it was the intent that was the basis for the conviction. The sad thing is that had the judge charged the jury properly I believe the defendant would have been convicted anyway.

In the Ocean Beach PD case of brutality, I believe the judge ruled properly on that case as well. It isn't often a judge would dismiss an indictment, especially in Suffolk County, and it such a high profile case. Judges don't do such things in any court, much less Suffolk.

Many, many confessions have been allowed into evidence even though judges have to believe the testimony they are hearing is not believable. As long as the police officer doesn't make it impossible for the judge to rule the confession inadmissible, it isn't going to happen.

In this particular case I believe the judge had more than sufficient excuse to let the indictment stand without too much criticism. Judges don't usually like to be reversed. In Suffolk County it doesn't appear to this observer that they could care less as long as they stay in favor with the district attorney and the public. In this case it seems as though the judge followed the law and properly dismissed the indictment.

In the case I was involved in there were two judges who handled the case. It was Judge Kahn who handled most of the pre-trial motions –not well, I might add. It was Judge Hudson who handled the pre trial motions, including the sweetheart deal with the informant, and then at the trial.

In this case the prosecution put in at least 6 requests for Molineux material to be introduced for trial. They call this tactic as offering the judge to pick a menu from. The judge is made to look like not such a bad guy as he will deny most of the motions and allow only the best in for evidence. In doesn't matter a bit if ALL of them are crap, but he looks like a reasonable person, and who can argue with a reasonable person.

The judge would give the prosecution two pieces of garbage to improperly influence the jury by piling on accusations of criminal activity with no proof. It would be the basis for the appeal that is still pending in the appellate court.

The judge would allow in a burglary of a Bay Shore company on 10/8/99, and no proof would be offered into evidence other than the fact the already perjured informant would say the defendant was there. No proof, no corroboration, nothing, other than the fact the defendant was working that evening. They can't determine what time it happened because there was no alarm. They would have to carefully fit it in just right, or the only time the defendant had, or possibly had to be a lookout for them as he was engaged with others the entire evening. But, the judge would put this crap in because he is told to put it in by the DA - or else.

He would go a step further when the DA will start poking into one of those items he gave on the menu to the judge to digest and the judge would tell him, on the record, and very clearly, " I know where you are going with this and if you do I am going to call a mistrial." The DA would respond, "I understand your instructions judge, but I am going to do it anyway." And, of course he did and the judge didn't call a mistrial. Oh, sure, the next day he 'scolded' the DA. Not in front of the jury, of course, but he went on the record.

The judge would hear the witness lie and lie, and learn he lied to him when he allowed the witness to go free. He would hear it in the courtroom in the testimony. He would tell the defense attorney, "This isn't the first time the DA sold me a false bill of goods." And he would do nothing. He would not consider dismissing the case when the prosecution rested, he would not dismiss the case after the defense rested.

He would hear the lies. He must have heard more lies by the DA when they were negotiating for the release of their star witness, lies we would never know of or hear of.

So if anyone doesn't believe what Judge Kahn did with her decision wasn't something monumental in Suffolk County history, think again - it was huge.

thats ok. Im sure they will get off. Lets not forget though that their career in law enforcement in this state and probably everywhere else is over. No investigator is going to clear some seasonal skell who got involved in a stink up of this magnitude. So good, let the seasonals stay right where they are..not knowing a thing about being a cop. That protects our reputation as full time career cops..ill take that everytime!!

Maybe Spota Will Hire Them?

He has plenty of compromised people doing his investigations. He has one who was involved in a stock scheme that took the SCPD suckers, and others for about 1 1/4 million dollars. Another one was his informant in a murder case. Throw in a couple of guys he represented while he was a private attorney. I am sure Tom can find a place for them in his crew.

The Job pays well. Make a $100K a year, a car, free gas, and all the privileges at the local bars. And you can even run a private investigation business if you aren't too tied up with corruption investigations.

These OPD cops sound like perfect candidates for his office.

Sounds Like The Da Case Is In The Crapper

THE RULES OF POLICE ARE SIMPLE: You don't give up another cop by exposing them for personal reasons involving their wives. Not even the worst of the worst. NEVER BRING FAMILY INTO IT.

You speak like a cop who after being married for 2 weeks was still getting blowjobs from sluts you pick up at your fav club.

When I found out my neighbor the married Suffolk cop was banging a waitress at the restuarant where he gets his free daily meals while in uniform, I parked my boss's van across the street from the restuarant with my Minolta and captured his unfaithfulness on film.

3 days after mailing the pics to his wife I noticed he was packing a rented van with his belongings and I have not seen him since.

If he was not such a rude and arrogant piece of ... I probably would have minded my own business. Isn't there a law that says married guys can't be humping women who they are not married to?

What do you expect. These guys were never cops. They went through the SCPD Academy and then got part-time seasonal work in paradise. They have no idea how to deal with people or what loyality means. They tainted all the good and hardworking cops that work there.

i think there should be charges against those 2 women for using the police scooter...uumv, and..... well the putz who allowed it was canned already. After they are charged we can give them a sweetheart deal to roll all the dirt they got. No doubt plenty.

Also we should find these other women and inquire as to what day and time those cops were hanging out in a private home and how much booze was consumed.

what happened?

Why haven't the five former officers made any comment regarding the dismissal of Bill's case or the discovery of the photograph depicting Frank (I'll never be a cop again) Fiorello and Joe (I'm a retard, who can't spell my own name) Nofi attending a party while on duty?

When Frank is doing mall security somewhere, real cops will take bets on whether he was; A) PD Reject, or, B) Former Prisoner. The d*@kbag never did one minute of real police work. He is a damned disgrace.

And Nofi, well, we all know he is just really, really, dumb.

How Can So Little Do So Much?

How many OPD cops are there who work In-Season? They seem to have done everything wrong since Pearl Harbor. I think the folks of Suffolk County may ask themselves if so few can do so much wrong - how much is going on with SCPD? It goes on in a lot of places, including SCPD. Boys will be boys.

It shouldn't happen, but it does. All posting pictures does is to give someone an idea - hey, I got a few myself. Digital pictures - boom.

take a look at the idiot cops at the West Indian Day Parade You Tube clips. One is standing there getting the 'grind', and the other cop decides to join in and does his own thing.

You guys are asking for trouble. All it is going to take is ONCE for a wild pic to be posted and you will all be in the soup.

Any old time NYPD cop who did summer duty in the Rockaways knows the cops rented bungalows for the season. It was party time for many of them. On or Off-Duty - it made no difference. You could just as easily been in uniform as not. It was just one long celebration.

Suffolk County policing is like what happened at the end of the War with the Japanese. We were finding Japanese soldiers in caves 20 years after the war was over thinking the war was still on. Some of you folks out there believe you are policing in the 1940's.

STOP THROWING STONES AT EACH OTHER.

Thats why you are a putz my boy. We've dealt with video cams and now cell phone cams for years. You think you just struck gold????? There is a entire block of training in the scpd academy on dealing with the public. A good % of one day is how the public can use these devices against you. Scpd always assume they are on tape, thats why the incidence are few and far between out here. Oh they've happened and will happen, there have been "wild pics" its nothing new, maybe to you but after all you are just a web board groupie. But its rare and will remain rare.....Notice you mention west indy, and rockaways.

As far as comparing opd to sepd....opd has parttimers...scpd doesnt. opd serve a tiny high end area, roughly the size of a small village that doesnt welcome outsiders and is notoriously tough on them, scpd is a 5 town dept.

Stupid comparison.

I do have to say I'm impressed with how every post, whether debating town or sheriff or whatever, there is always at least one poster who comes back to SCPD. Infatuation

Im coming against any part time skell thats taking my O/T away from me..and if you are retired and working part time..then you ought to know better and stop being buff. Without any facts as to the history of where all the part timers came from, i wont comment on how many are retired cops, but I seriously DOUBT the number is as high as you think. Besides, the part timers jammed up arent retired cops to my knowledge.

There are always a few. Every job has them. It doesn't matter if they're on the job for five minutes or twenty years. They think they know everything, about everything and are always bitching about something. Instead of getting the facts they spout off without having a clue of what they're talking about. Two of the four Ocean Beach cops indicted are retired NYC cops. One has had the case against him dismissed. The other cases are pending and motions are being heard at this time. When the case goes to trial, then all the FACTS will be heard and a jury will decide the outcome. Until then, don't judge those indicted. It's a big leap from probable cause to beyond a reasonable doubt. There are only three full time officers in the Ocean Beach P.D. One is the Chief, who has been out on sick leave for two years; one is the Acting Chief, who was indicted and is on modified duty, and one is a police officer. There are about twenty eight or so part time and seasonal officers, all Civil Service qualified, and most with law enforcement experience, who do a great job under difficult circumstances and take overtime away from no one. Right now, five are retired NYC police officers, each with at least twenty vears on the job, working to suppliment their retirement. They are not buffing, they're working. There are five civilian dispatchers, three of which are retired Nassau detectives with about ninety odd years combined experience. They take overtime away from no one. There are cops from NYC, Nassau and Suffolk, who stop by the station every day asking what they have to do to get a job on the beach when they retire. Mr. Stop Taking My Overtime, no one from Ocean Beach is taking your overtime. Get back in your P.D., patrol your post, keep your eyes and ears open, stay alert, watch out for your partners, don't get complacent and unless you know what your talking about keep you mouth shut so you don't sound like an ass. And get this straight kid, a cop, is a cop, is a cop. Anything can happen to any cop, on any job, at any time. Show some respect for your fellow officers no matter where they work. In other words, be a professional, do your job, take care of yourself, and mind your own business. If you do find it necessary to comment on something, get the facts first. Isn't that what cops are suppose to do?

Isn't that what cops are suppose to do?

The guy who posts under the name "Stop Taking My O/T" is a complete waste of the skin suite he resides in. The guy is constantly posting about other agencies. He writes crap that is inconsistent with the truth on almost all occasions. He posts opinions that are so one sided that you almost have to pinch yourself to keep from laughing out loud. I personally do not think he is a cop, I think he reads what we write, he learns a few catch phrases and off he goes on another fantasy adventure with the boys in blue. If he is a cop, he could be that idiot 8gt from either Quogue Willage or Southold Town. If you ever meet the guy at a dinner, Claudio's etc. you will never forget him. A big doufie looking, loud mouthed, opinionated moron. Cant understand why they hired him, or better yet why they promoted him? Civil Service at it's best moment? Not sure it is him, but all the stuff he writes lead me in that direction. So him, or TROLL - your guess is as good as mine.

Whichever the case may be, just ignore him. There are plenty of municipalities where they can not afford to hire full time police officers, so they supliment a few full time guys with seasonal help. In the case of Ocean Beach, it doesn't take much to figure out that for five months out of the year the place is hopping, for the other seven it's a freaking ghost town. So they cant hire ALL full time cops. It's like that on the East end Departments as well. They go from 600,000. people in May to over 1.6 million for June, July, August and September. There is no way they could justify hiring enough PO's to Police during the Summer months on a full time basis without going broke. But this idiot will come on here and talk about HIS O/T. I make a good salary on my job, I work incidental OT when it involves staying for an arrest, a no show, a bang in, etc. but if this idiot is relying on O/T to live then shame on him and shame on his union for not getting these guys a decent salary to live on. This is the same moron who took issue with the sheriff's office coming out on holidays for parades and functions to assist them with the crowds, traffic etc. He b!tched that they were taking his O/T, yet when you talk to other guys in his Department they tell me he's a moren and that whenever these events take place everybody is taking off and calling in so they don't have to work the holiday anyway. So who's O/T are they taking? NOBODY'S! This guy is always off the mark.

Spota Has Some Work To Do.

He should stop with the OBD nonsense and take on the case where the handcuffed guy took a beating in the police station with at least five witnesses present. I don't think Spota can call the witnesses nefarious scoundrels as they have badges in their pockets.

The man is a certifiable dope. Calling a federal agent not worthy of belief with an ax to grind is more Spota horsemanure. The only ax to grind here is that a SCPD detective beat the bejesus out of his witness that he brought to the SCPD for slaughter.

Soory to hear of the termination. That said I was looking for a part-time job. I was a painter on ocean beach for years. I could help with building the new station. I don't get in anyones business so the chief and my co workers can do their thing without concern (if you know what I mean). I 'll stop by the station to get an application one night this week. How soon can I get a gun and badge? I really need it soon! The job that is!

Ask kevin for the specifics, but 1st you need to bring your wife down for us to bang. If no wife your sister or mother might do. We dont care if shes ugly. Kevins sister was so ugly we just bagged her face. His mother wasnt much better.

Of all, kevin sucked the best cock, but we didnt want him, not that being queer is bad or anything. He never understood that.

Kevins sister was so ugly we just bagged her face. His mother wasnt much better. Of all, kevin sucked the best cock, but we didnt want him, not that being queer is bad or anything. He never understood that.

So I hear SHannon loves having big black bulls fill her nasty cunt while the Chief is at work. Sweet!!

Chief, how much does Mitch pay you to look the other way? How old are those girls you pick up at the bars? I hear one of them was 15....

Idiots

Careful what you wish for

Ed Carter & Tom Snyder Islip Town Park Rangers, Kevin Lamm Islip MacArthur Airport Security Guard, Joe Nofie Smithtown Park Ranger and Frank Fiorello Square Badge Store Detective. Be careful of what you wish for. You see all of you are screw ups in your daily lives. That is why you are no longer cops. But when you make bogus allegations an investigation will be conducted. Now your past present and futures are all up for review. That will all come out if your case ever goes to trial. Your life of lies will come to light. You will be the ones paying the price in the end and you did it all to yourselves! You could could have just walked away like gentleman, but no. Remember, the truth is the truth!!!

Another thing hasn't changed either Chief...Your still under indictment for your crimes.

You know, if you had actually did your job instead of banging all those nasty skanks in your office (did you actually verify their age, or was it dont ask dont tell??), maybe this would not be happening. Knowingly employing men as police officers who never actually were is a serious offense Chief. How long did Al walk around the Beach, never actually being a police officer??? And cmon Chief, if you think you are a real cop....please. In the end, you will burn for what you did, and the Beach will fold up shop. They will have to pay for your crimes, and you will be going to jail. This is AMERICA you scumbag, people have a right to not be beaten by the "police" for no reason!!

Blow me you idiot

kiss my ass

Hey jerk off, maybe the case hasn't gone to trial yet because the Suffolk DA has gotten himself into a pickle. This case and the Martin Tankleff case and many others are being reviewed by the department of justice because of improprieties with in the Suffolk DA's office with many of it's cases therein. Do you remember the Duke Lacross team case??? Trust me when the DOJ gets done the duke case will look like nursery school. Besides why isnt the DA's office pushing to go to trial. They anounced ready at the arraignment. Oh thats right one of the indictments have already been tossed by the judge. The others will get tossed soon.

So Kevin Lamm, Frank Fiorello, Joe Noffi, Ed Carter and Tom Snyder, why dont you all go back to your circle jerk and tell each other how good it feels not to be cops anymore!

Cant wait to see you in court!

Does Anybody Know

I searched WebCrims and could find no cases pending relating to Lamm, Fiorello, Carter, Noffi, of Snyder. One of them should have an appearence date on the court record? anyone explain?

The previous post about the DOJ seems as though someone knows what they are talking about.

You should have seen 60 Minutes earlier. The FED went tooth and nail after the Chicago, PD, and are taking no prisoners. The question is if Suffolk County is big enough to get their attention.

If that wasn't enough, a dummy in SCPD goes and commits a crime in front of a federal agent. same kind of crime the OPD cops have been indicted for.

Tom Spota stonewalls it by saying no such thing happened and the federal agent is not credible!!!

Suffolk observors familiar with the system have often told me that what brought Spota to power - the cops, are going to be the same people that will bring him down.

Amazing Story

I just learned the complete history of Ocean Beach PD. Thank you all for that load of crap, I am a dumber person for reading it. Not one of you has, for obvious reasons posted anything regariding the administration and the steps taken to bring this department where it is today. No mention of the arrest of a long time village contractor and how the PD went out of their way to guide this guy and ensure he didnt loose everything. He bailed out, got cleaned up, is currently in counseling and on the path to a better life, or even the recent arrest of another long time contractor, who was housed, fed, and bonded out, appeared before Village Majistrate and also is in recovery and on his way to a better job. AS far as the Islip employees who moonlighted at OBPD! I recall when you worked 4-12's @ Islip and yet somehow managed to make the 12-8 shift @ OBPD? WOnder how that happened, you left Islip HQ @ 1200 and were able to BE ON Ocean Beach and signed in @ the Village job for a 12-8. Another amazing Story. You should all be fiction writers, you'd make more money doin that than pursuing legal action or unemloyment pay. Good Luck.

beach from his Fair Harbor summer home to the Fire Island Synagogue for holiday night services on Saturday, Aug. 9 when he was chased down by three men who accused him of being a flasher, he says. Since he did not have his cell phone on him because it was the Sabbath, he was unable to call the police. He did not believe the admittedly drunk men calling him "faggot" and "pervert" were truly police officers after identifying themselves as such. The three alleged attackers, who were not in uniform, seemed sure that Campeas was the guy who had flashed two 9-year-old girls earlier that night, but Campeas was adamant in declaring his innocence to them. And that's when the beating began, he says.

"The ocean is right here, let's end it now," said one of the men beating him, Campeas wrote in an e-mail obtained by the Press. Said Campeas, "I thought I was dead," adding that the men also threatened him with castration. Just as he thought he was saved when a Suffolk Police Marine Bureau SUV patrolling the beach rolled up, he says he was handcuffed while the officers conducted a "show up," which is when police give crime victims an opportunity to identify a suspect at the scene if one is caught soon after an incident is reported. But the two young victims of the indecent exposure act said that Campeas wasn't the flasher, he says.

"The Blue Wall of Silence" then went up as Suffolk cops refused to take the doctor's statement, says Campeas, the 52-year-old father of three. "I was asked...to understand how upset people were, to accept a personal apology from my assailants and to forget the whole thing." But he refused, and now he is fighting back.

It won't be easy though. Only one of the three men accused of beating Campeas has so far been identified: Detective Arthur Mohar, a Long Islander with the New York City Police Department Warrant Squad, who reportedly admits he was at the scene in Atlantique Beach investigating the flasher case, but who insists that no one was hurt. Campeas' lawyer disagrees.

"It was downhill from the moment they saw him," says Manhattan-based attorney Joel Dranove, who is prepared to sue Suffolk if police they aren't more helpful. "We're looking for [Suffolk Police's] cooperation so that they can be on the same side as us," he says, but expressed frustration with the investigation. A separate law firm working for Campeas has already filed a notice of claim in federal court against the city, naming Molnar personally.

"He was on his way to being murdered on the beach," Dranove says, noting that the doctor now can't perform surgery due to his injuries. Describing the ordeal as a "lifealtering nightmare," Dranove adds that "even if they caught the perp, it's an outrage." But for such a scandalous accusation, little is being reported.

Internal Affairs detectives for both the NYPD and Suffolk County Police Department are investigating the doctor's claims, said a spokesperson for each agency. Neither would discuss details. A spokesman for Suffolk County District Thomas Spota could not confirm or deny the existence of a criminal investigation into the Suffolk County Marine Bureau.

In the weeks following the incident, the only sign that anything out of the ordinary took place were posters around the marina from the Third Precinct Crime Section offering a $5,000 reward for information on the case. Families continued barbequing dockside at the Town of Islip-run marina, dock masters went about their business, lifeguards maintained their watch and workers at the lone concession stand were as stunned as anyone.

 $^{\prime\prime}$ I was just very surprised, it's just not like anyone from Atlantique," says Jessica

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 187 of 304 PageID #:

Ginsel, 21, of North Babylon, while serving up snacks for beach-goers on the lone sidewalk from the bay to the ocean here. She suggests that a band playing on the night of the crime may have brought more revelers than usual to this park tucked between the quiet hamlets of Lonelyville and Atlantique. A father of three boys adds that he would have chased after the guy too if it were his kids that were flashed.

One 16-year-old girl told this reporter that she witnessed the beating and is now scared of the police. She's not the only one. Cops on this barrier island already have trust issues with charges of a 2005 beating and cover-up hanging over the heads of four officers with the Ocean Beach Police Department, the island's unofficial capitol. Pre-trial motions are still being heard in that case and pending too are several lawsuits claiming rampant police corruption that complemented those charges.

In the meantime on the Atlantique Beach case, the Campeas' wounds are healing and he is bracing himself for the lengthy court proceedings ahead. And as September dawns on this half-mile strip of sand and the sun sets on the summer long party that was the backdrop for these accusations, the doctor is wary of coming back to Suffolk. Summering by the sea just won't be the same.

2al The Humps Hoping For A Conviction

Two Ocean Beach police officers accused of beating a tourist so badly that his bladder ruptured were acquitted by a Suffolk County jury Friday of the top counts against them.

On the ninth day of deliberations, the jury found acting Police Chief George Hesse, 40, of East Islip, not guilty of the top two counts against him: first-degree gang assault and second-degree assault. The jury remains undecided on a lesser charge of third-degree assault, a misdemeanor which carries with it a maximum sentence of 1 year.

The jury also acquitted officer Arnold Hardman, 53, of St. James, on his top count of reckless endangerment, as well as filing false documents and other charges.

The jury remains undecided on an official misconduct charge against both officers. Official misconduct is a misdemeanor that carries a maximum sentence of 1 year.

Things to do this weekend

Editorial Cartoons

Walt Handelsman >>

Newsday's Pulitzer Prize-winning cartoonist.

The controversial case was rooted in the night of Aug. 28, 2005, when a former Manhattan man, Sam Gilberd, 36, said he was punched and stomped by Hess - the incident rupturing his bladder. Prosecutors said Hardman failed to seek medical attention for Gilberd and lied to first responders about his injuries.

Lawyers defending both officers said Gilberd drunkenly and belligerently struggled with the officers and ruptured his own bladder in a fall.

Both sides said Gilberd ended up at the police station to be ticketed for smashing a pint glass outside a bar after a night of hard drinking.

Hesse's lawyer, William Keahon of Islandia, said Gilberd arrived at the police station "staggering" and "slurring" - and soon was shouting obscenities at officers.

On his way out of the station, Gilberd kicked the station's glass door in anger, and officers pulled him back inside, where a brief struggle ensued, lawyers for both sides said.

Gilberd caused his own injury by resisting arrest and falling at some point during the scuffle, according to Hardman's lawyer, Stephen Worth, of Roslyn Heights.

But Suffolk prosecutor Robert Biancavilla said the defense's version of the events "belies common sense."

Biancavilla described Hesse as a "bully with a badge," and said a clock fell on Hesse's head during the struggle.

The enraged chief then punched and stomped Gilberd as he lay slumped against a wall, Biancavilla said.

"This is not the case of the spontaneously exploding bladder," Biancavilla said during closing statements of the month-long trial. Apparently the jury did not find the evidence against the officers compelling.

Both defendants were facing the jury and appeared relieved when the verdicts were read.

Lawyers on both sides will now decide how to proceed. Meanwhile, the jury could be asked to deliberate further on the undecided counts - or could wind up hung on those counts, at which point the district attorney's office could elect to retry or drop the case.

I just got onto this forum and is wondering in that picture who are those two cops. I am a mos from Scpd and had 2 bad encounters with them a few years ago. Are they the 2 that got laid off for abusive power? I can tell you from personal experince they are an embarassment to all Mos out there. In particular the bald cop with the typical cop mustache is lucky I was with my family the 1st day I encountered him. The 2nd encounter which really makes me laugh now was while traveling home from the Ferry one afternoon, there were a bunch of drunk trash on the ferry causing problems and he was in uniform (i guess going home from shift) and as he encountered them I tapped him on the shoulder offering my help as a cop in the 1st, and he truns to me with this arrogant expression saying to me"I dont need you help go sit down." that was probably my 1st time in 17 years as a cop I wished the bad guys would have clocked him.

The only reason Gerdon made detective is cause he lived next door to Senator Owen Johnson. The big-wig got attention of local politics and they made the senator's little friend. This is while Dave's brother was racking up DWI's and fighting cops.

Johnson got another 1st Pct cop the det shield too, just like Patty Halpin did.

That D/Sgt was probably the best boss that ever worked in this Department. It's a shame that there are no bosses like him anymore on this job. He was a stand up guy who took no shit and stood up for his guys! As long as you worked for him and were a good cop he stood by you, unlike Dave who was a piece of crap! He did the right thing and gave that rat the boot! This job could use m a few bosses with the balls that boss had! Seems that the current crop of bosses in this regime has been castrated by the Dormer/Levy administration! DAVE Is a RAT!

Good point... the prosecutor turned white when the defense called no witnesses. there was no evidence, therefor no case. How pathetic. This should never have gone this far. I can see the dollar signs now. Kevin, Frank, Joe, Ed, and Tom you're next..

Kevin Lamm

As a life-time Fire Islander, who has spent every summer in Ocean Beach and Seaview I have observed Kevin Lamm in action many times. Lets sum up some of his best times:

- -Threatening little kids with summons
- -Groping local children while claiming to be frisking
- -Entering homes with no probably cause
- -Excessive force on several occasions
- -Threatening sexual blackmail to boys in Ocean Beach
- -Impressing "friend" in cop car while threatening to give Breathalyzer to 15 year old kids

Hope to see ya around MacArthur one of these days Kevin. Looking forward to seeing you waste your time with these lawsuits which lost even more merit as the OB police officers have been acquitted. Still working the 9pm-5am shift? Will be stopping by

Sincerely,

You know who I am

Actually there was plenty of credible evidence demostrating these cops were guilty of assaulting a citizen. Too bad the local jury decided the testimonial was not credible....as the local jury did in the OJ Simpson case.

And as in the OJ case, I am confident the federal jury will see this case differently. This case is far from over.

Lamm, Fiorello, Synder, Carter and Nofi. Combined, these people have roughly ten arrests. COMBINED! In most places, these people are called rookies and have no buisness opening their mouths. Where was Frank at the courthouse? What about Kevin? Nofi dosent know what day it is. Carter and Synder are out locking park bathrooms somewhere. Just keep quiet boys, stop embarrassing yourselves, and dont think for one minute, that anyone of you are, or ever were policemen. You tried and you failed, miserably. None of you should have ever been there in the first place. It was a mistake that has caused grief among many people. Please remember, none of you will ever go down in history as that hero airport security guard, exceptional store detective/truck driver, master part time bay constable, or a God-Damn Islip Town Park Ranger. Just fade away and go back to being losers. You lost. You will always be remember as the worst example of modern policing. You have set standards on hiring practices, be proud of that. Sooner than you think, you will be largely forgotten, only to be laughed at on few occassions.

And The OJ case.... apples and oranges. OJ was aquitted because of an incredible defense put on by a line up of superstar defense lawyers. In this case there WAS NO DEFENSE PRESENTED. In a normal trial the jury hears both sides of the story and decides which is the credible one. In this case, the jury heard ONE side and decided it was bullshit. The DA's case was so weak they should have been embarrassed to take it to trial..... but then I guess when Spota gets up in front of the cameras and calls an entire department a "bunch of thugs" and "Cops Gone Wild" it's hard to back down from your grandstanding bullshit. There was a hidden agenda in this all... some know what it was. Look deeper, see who the players were and you will find it too.

Let see, what would you consider credible evidence. Lets go through the witnesses: Dave Gerdon, experienced retard.. he was just angry he was fired for stealing.. Paul Carollo, tried to save his own ass by lying, plead to discon (justice SERVED!!). Sam Gilberd, well if the bouncer said i threw the glass i must have.. Ha Ha..great line.. Kana Magnalapus, I dont recall (flown in on your tax dollars from Cali for that).. Some chic from France also flown in on your tax dollar to also say she doesn't recall and she and others were drunk (good witness).. Luca Zigaglia was just awesome, 4 cops beat sam in front of me dragged sam in the back room and beat him some more. I can hear sam screaming for help and yelling stop stop beating me. and the best. he was bruised so bad with profuse bleeding and sam pissed himself. Hmmmm, lets keep going.. 3 paramedics came in and all said the same thing, they witness no bruising, blood or any injury for that matter on this guy Sam. plus no injury on his abdomen. AMAZING!!..When asked by one paramedic and the Doc at Southside what his chief complaint was he stated "I'm drunk and did drugs" not, I was beat by police. The DA put scientists on the stand.. hmmm.. tested pants and underpants for traces of urine... none found, WOW!!.. no blood on any of his clothes.. should i keep going.. i shall.. blood alcohol level .30-.32 at 4am.. toxicologist said majority of the US would be unconscious at .25.. can you believe that?..their own doctor that did the surgery said this injury could have happened in a fall..WOW.. whats that called??? REASONABLE DOUBT... You're so smart..show me the evidence they had.. oh and remember, no witnesses called for the defense.. and they had plenty...

You can take your example of OJ Simpson and shove it..

Just came upon this forum.

Hey Kevin.

I will give my name. My name is Scott S. Remember me, I remember you, you weasel. You used to feel so big for busting some kids for drinking underage. Oh my, you really saved the world with those busts. Or how about when you would rough up me and my friends. Or place cuffs on 15 year old kids for minding their own business. Or that time you nearly ran me over with your cop truck and threatened to give me a Breathalyzer test while you had a ride-along in the passenger seat. Or giving littering summons for putting out a cigarette on the ground. Or threatening with summons and manhandling 12 year old kids for god forbid riding their bikes. Or entering property without probable cause. Boy this list goes on.

George runs the police department with class and provides both locals and tourists with mutual respect. He is a class act.

Please Kevin, please at least give your name, acknowledge it is you writing all this garbage. I feel real sorry for you. This is quite sad.

-Scott S.

Hold on...are you telling me the Ocean Beach cops refused to testify and hid behind....err, I mean, invoked their right to remain silent?

Hiding behind your 5th amendment right to remain silent is what perps, lowlifes and other bad guys do, isn't it?

When facing criminal allegations made against them, real cops or citizens stand up and proclaim their innocence for all the community to hear. Real cops or citizens swagger up to the witness stand, swear to tell the truth, and offer a truthful account of what they observed and heard at the time and place in question.... while guilty cops or citizens hide behind their 5th amendment right.

I can't believe the jury let these cops walk without hearing their side of the story.

I really find it difficult to believe Spota's case was so messed up that jurors found these guys not guilty of all charges. A prosecutor presents a Chinese menu of criminal charges against a few cops and he can't make one of the charges stick. WHOA!!!!....this is some pretty scary stuff.

Apparently, in the end their defense strategy worked. Though the spanking the lawyers gave their wallets could be considered a small victory for the guy they kicked the crap out of.

You don't for one moment think this guy fell and his bladder burst? Cops rough up drunks all the time and you never hear of bladders bursting. AFAIC you have to take some serious shots for your bladder to pop.

But these guys beat the charges and now their sphincter muscle can resume it's normal posture. Sitting at the defense table and watching 12 people decide your future has to be one of the most gut wrenching and mind bending experiences a free person can be subjected to....aside from reading my posts on this board.

Hopefully some people, including the drunk, matured a bit from this experience.

Civil suits pay just as much as anything else. The "Johnny Corchran Firm" of NYC walked out empty handed after 2 weeks of trial, paying off 2 expert witnesses, subpoera fees, transcriber costs, and aggravation.

Old Jonny is still the mouthpiece for losers like Grassick, Mollins, and Brewington. They took a bath on me though.

Above writer is right on. Kevin Lamm used to hassle my two kids when he was an officer in OB. He would hang out by the day camp to catch kids riding their bikes and then manhandle them when he stopped them. Thank god he doesn't have the balls to set forth on Fire Island ever again.

And I had a long conversation with his supposed attorney in his wrongful termination lawsuit. They don't seem to have any faith in him and feel he is dragging the case for the rest of the officers.

I kind of looking forward to see how deep Kevin Lamm keeps digging.

Ocean Beach cops acquitted of all charges in beating'

BY ERIK GERMAN | erik.german@newsday.com

April 13, 2009 Cheers and applause echoed in a Riverhead courtroom Monday after a jury acquitted two police officers of all remaining charges in the case of a Fire Island tourist who suffered a ruptured bladder in their custody.

Jurors had found the officers not guilty of the top counts of second-degree assault and reckless endangerment, along with other charges on Friday. Returning Monday, the jury acquitted the officers of third-degree assault and official misconduct, both misdemeanors.

Upon hearing the final verdict in court, Ocean Beach acting Police Chief George Hesse, 40, of East Islip, turned and grabbed his co-defendant, Arnold Hardman, 53, of St. James, in a tight bear hug.

About a dozen friends and family members - many of whom had attended daily during six weeks of testimony and 10 days of deliberations - shouted "Yes!" and clapped after the verdict was read.

Hesse's mother, Rose Spinnato, 58, of Cutchogue, leaned back in her seat, hands over her face, and wept with relief.

Standing beside her in hallway, Hesse said, "We put our faith in the system and the system won."

Assistant District Attorney Robert Biancavilla said he was disappointed with the jury's decision and stood by his evidence.

Prosecutors had accused Hesse of punching and stomping a former Manhattan man, Sam Gilberd, 36, on Aug. 28, 2005.

The incident began with police issuing Gilberd a littering ticket for smashing a glass outside a bar. At the police station, the defense said Gilberd became belligerent with officers, and both sides acknowledge that Gilberd kicked the building's front door on his way out.

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 222 of 304 PageID #:

Police pulled Gilberd back inside, where the defense said his bladder - bloated from heavy drinking - burst in a fall.

Prosecutors say the injury occurred after Hesse lost his temper and stomped Gilberd twice in the abdomen.

"There were a lot of pieces of the puzzle that didn't fit," said juror Charlie Nitti, 47, of Deer Park. "It was a battle the whole time."

Another juror, a 35-year-old New York City police officer who declined to give his name, said he took no sides while weighing testimony given by Ocean Beach officers who testified against Hardman and Hesse.

"I didn't want to prejudge anybody," he said. "It wasn't easy."

Gilberd had been present for several days of jury deliberations, but he said last week he was returning to Los Angeles because his wife was about to give birth.

Gilberd, who filed a $22-million civil suit against the department after he was injured, did not respond to a request for comment Monday.

Gilberd's civil lawyer, D. Carl Lustig of Manhattan, said his client was confident he will convince jurors in the still-pending civil suit.

"This case is a long way from being over," Lustig said.

Hardman, a retired New York City police officer, said outside court that he intended to return to his security job at the American Museum of Natural History in Manhattan, but did not know whether he would return to Ocean Beach, where he'd been a part-time employee.

Ocean Beach Mayor Joseph Loeffler said Hesse would be removed from administrative leave, which he'd been on for the trial's duration, and take up his badge and gun immediately. "Tomorrow," Loeffler said. "Full duty."

Most decent cops are qualified to do the work of a sgt without the training. If he was not a sgt, in this case would it have mattered? Would it have changed anything?

I've worked with dozens of sgts, who I knew more then, and won arguments 90% of the time, in regards to policy procedure and law.

I've also worked with some very knowledgeable ones too.

He could be a private in the dept if they had such a rank, he was still found to be doing his duty.

Wow...... you make such a convincing argument, why don't you call yourself a lawyer. You don't even need to take the Bar Exam and go to school.

It's no wonder that the OBPD wrote Gilberd a ticket without witnessing him throw the glass bottle. Great Police work!

In the future , just make sure you do not rehang another clock on the wall in the police station.

No, wrong again, not a obpd, just a scpd. If they didnt see him throw the bottle the idiot should have kept his mouth shut and won in court.

Sorry no one's buying your story, but it just doesn't matter, sgt, p.o. Capt Cavemen, a cop is a cop, and it simply doesn't matter what rank, he can take police action.

Hey, Guess what??...the DA had the same complaint and wanted to further charge Hesse with with falsifying who he was. Motion was denied by Judge Condon and he further stated that if the village appointed him to these duties i guess he was acting in his capacity as such.

Just wondering, are any of the 'five former ocean beach police officers' currently employed as Police Officers?

You are correct. Innocent people are not afraid of being cross examined. Only scumballs with something to hide would refuse to proclaim their innocence before a jury.

Allowing another cop to help judge these officer's conduct does not make sense.

Whats next, permitting known organized crime figures to sit on the jury involving other crime family members charged with crimes?

Obviously the Suffolk DA wanted these cops to be acquitted.

This whole friggin island is corrupt.

Dont you retards know that that no one testified on the behalf of the defense. i'm sure it was planned to have both officers testify on their own behalf but the prosecutions case was that weak. Sorry to disappoint but thats the justce system

According to media accounts, after the drunk broke a glass, the bar bouncer escorted the drunk to the police station for the purpose of charging him with an offense.

Is this legal? Doesn't the law require an officer personally observe the offense before he can issue a criminal court ticket?

The bouncer used his right of civilian arrest, he was the complaintant, obpd acted on his behalf processing the arrest.

Perfectly legal

We had this recently. An irate motorist pushed a motorcyclist off a bike in an intersection. The biker refused to press charges. With the motorists's admissions, we issued an FAT for discon even though we didn't witness it.

Good arrest? I think so. We don't have to be right, only reasonable. They'll figure it out.

man up jerk offs

▲ Free the four at last

a ree the rour at last

Who is the blowjob complaining about exercising their right to remain silent. He or she has no idea how our legal system is set up. ADA Biancavilla had no case. In fact his own experts cleared the officers of any wrong doing by their expert testimony. These were the DA's own witnesses. But it was The DA investigators under the direction of Pete

Case 2:07-cv-01215-SJF-ETB Document 145-44 Filed 01/15/10 Page 243 of 304 PageID #: 3655

Tartaglia who wanted to make something of nothing. It was his cancer crew Investigator Burk and Walkinthien, aka Gorbichev who tried their best to intimidate all the winesses into telling it the way they wanted.

Then lets not forget the discraced piece of shit Dave Gerdon who purgered himself the get back at the acting chief for firing him. He was fired for stealing. He was useless anyway as a cop back then as he is today. The hated him in the 3rd and now he is looked upon as a piece of shit rat.

Oh and lets not forget Court Officer/ ex Police Officer Paul Carolo. The best thing he can do now is hang himself in his garage. But is is to cowardly to do that. So the next best thing is to leave the state and get a job elsewhere. But he will always be a rat and that will follow him wherever he goes. To bad you didnt have balls you lying fuck! Good luck getting your gun back with the courts!

Then we have the 5 jerk offs who went running to the DA after they too were fired for incompetence and misconduct. Then they have the audacity to sue claiming they were wrongly terminated. When in fact they were the ones who had committed all the misconduct and that was the reason for their termination. With all the depositions nearly done you attorney knows you all haned him a bag of shit. There will be no pay day. So Kevin Lamm, Joe Nofi, Tom Snyder, Ed Carter and Frank Fiorillo... No pay day for you. What will happen when a slander suite is brought against you 5 and you are all found personally liable??? Oh and Kevin, it is only a matter of time before one of your roid rages get you in trouble elsewhere. And did the town send you for a drug test yet?

The only losers here are the taxpayers who footed the bill for this persecution. This cost thousands of dollars only to prove that Sam Gilbard was an obnoxious drunk who was out of control that night. In fact this wasnt the first time he has done that. There were at least 2 other times he has had run ins with the law because of his drinking and drug abuse problem.

So Kevin Lamm and Frank Fiorillo, get over yourselves and move on. If you insist upon attacking anyone be man enough to sign your name to it. Oh thats right you arent even men! You are rats and will always be rats!!!

Ok "Man Up..." ... So here you go attacking Samuel Gilberd saying he has had run ins at least 2 other times with the law because of his drinking and drug abuse problem - and you do not even sign your name!

Sam Gilberd admitted to drinking that night - there was no drugs found in his system - After he threw the bottle - the bouncer dragged him backwards to the Police station - Then, the cops wrote him a ticket for a crime they did not witness - Gilberd kicked the door on the way out - this angered Sgt. Hesse and he was pulled back into the police station and got his stomach stomped upon by Hesse' boots - He almost died!

If Gilberd was so "out of control that night" he should have been handcuffed!

Rest assured there will be NO cops - especially NYC cops tainting up the jury pool on Gilberd's civil trial!

A bit off. Gilberd was issued a fat ticket for a civilian arrest by the bouncer, obpd acted on his behalf. Once he was issued the ticket he was free to leave. He could not be handcuffed at that point. During the time he was in the pct he did not act out.

No. It will be taxpayers. Who will ultimately foot the bill for the civil award. Since the police were indeminified, and will not pay one cent towards the award So dont expect them to be any more sympathetic, if its bullshyt, its bullshyt. No freebies.

So if Samuel Gilberd was so "out of control that night" why was he not IMMEDIATELY HANDCUFFED upon entering the Police Station with the bouncer and then held at the pct.?

Why would "Sqt Hesse" permit someone to be "free to leave" if he was "out of control"?

So Samuel Gilberd proceeds to leave - he kicks the door on his way out - but he doesn't "leave" because his wife finds him unconscious on the floor of the police station.

Easy enough, he was out of control after he was issued the summons. Obviously he was not out of control if the bouncer escorted him to the pct. No doubt he was a arrogant prick who got pissed off afterwards and decided to throw a hissy fit. Every year at least one motorist who is as calm as pie, but as soon as he gets his tickets, he flies off the handle and rushes me or drives off recklessly, and ends up getting locked up. This is no different. Except add in the alcohol wildcard.

And what exactly are you going to do anyway, make him stay overnight on a littering ordinance? Refuse him bail...lol cmon rook

The fact that the bouncer walked him to the pct and he was not cuffed and did not start trouble until after the summons was issued, leads me to think the officers didnt do anything wrong. But if they did, so what?

It was a mistake in judgement. The police are expected to read a person and predict his or her actions. Sometimes they get it right sometimes they dont. That doesn't mean they lied.

OBPD does not want to currently hire women cops it would ruin the good ol boys club that they've got going on.

Look at their posts on this forum!

These are posts by the cops working there now.

Their posts are totally unprofessional - disrespectful - abusive - slanderous - DISGUSTING

OBPD does make a mockery out of law enforcement!

Poor little Sammie,

First off Sam Gilbard stated on the record he had aprox 18 drinks that night. When EMS got on sceene the administered Narcan and got a positive response. That means he had taken some kind of narcotic based drug. His friend on sceene told EMS that he is a recreational drug user. Oh and lets not forget that his blood alcohol level was .30 at 7:30am in the hospital.

But lets not pick on poor Sammie.

Oh and his 2 other run ins with the law were 6 days apart. That all came out during the sandoval hearing, the judges ruling was that it couldn't be brought out during the trial unless he or the DA opened the door.

But lets not pick on poor Sammie

Now his ruptured bladder may or may not have happened in police custody. According to the DA's own medical experts it could have even happened if he fell of a bar stool with his bladder being so distended from all his drinking. And the Suffolk County Medical Examiner also stated that he may have even happened in the ER when they were inserting the foley cathater with him being so drunk and combative.

But lets not pick on poor Sammie

Then you complain about about the jury's verdict. Well it was all 12 of them. Not just one of them. The fact that a cop was on the jury. means nothing. The DA courd have exercised a challenge to have him removed. But he didn't. Remember a jury of your peers. That means anyone and everyone serves these days. No exemptions.

But lets not pick on poor Sammie.

As for the civil suit. He will get paid and paid well. But he will also be assessed a percentage of responsibility for his own actions. So his pay day certainly will not be anyware near 22 million.

Or are you really talking about the your own civil suit? The bogus suit filed by the 5 losers who got fired. I know you all had high hopes that the Deputy Chief would get convicted. That would only bolster your own suit. But as your own attorney is seeing he was sold a box of rocks by you guys. No pay day sorry!!!

Now you ask if OBPD hires women. Why yes they do. But they fired 5 of them in one shot for being cunts! Their names are Ed Carter, Tom Snyder, Kevin Lamm, Frank Fiorillo and Joe Nofi. They werent fired for being women or females. They were fired for incompetence and misconduct. But they have the audacity to claim it was the Chief and other members of the department who were guilty of misconduct. Grow some balls and take responsibility for your own actions!

Now don't take my word for it, or the word of any of the officers who work there. Maybe they should ask officers who worked with the the 5 clowns and have left for other police jobs. NYPD, NYSP, MTAPD, SCPD and so on. They will only confirm what your own lawyer had found out after hundreds of billable hours that he will never get paid for.

So Ed, Tom, Kevin, Frank and Joe. Keep your circle jerk going. Because when it is all over. The only thing you will have is each others dicks in your hands!!!

But lets not pick on poor Sammie!

Kevin & Frank toss salad

• Keving getting his salad tossed at the park and ride

Media accounts have it that Kevin Lamm was seen getting his salad tossed at a local park and ride by Frank Fiorillo. During this time The toothless Ed Carter was wearing a red clown wig while banging the retarded Joe Nofi in the ass, while the angry Tom Snyder was pushing from behind. This was all in celebration of their big payday that is forth coming from lawsuit. That they were all so giddy with excitement the circle jerk wasn't cutting it anymore!

Foley catheters are flexible (usually latex) tubes that are passed through the urethra during urinary catheterization and into the bladder to drain urine.

Hmmmm...even though none of these 5 officers were charged with crimes, the Ocean Beach PD fires all 5 officers for incompetence and misconduct.

Yet the Nassau County PD refuses to fire an officer convicted of committing the crime of perjury.

Can anyone offer an explanation for why the criminal justice system on Long Island is so screwed up?

Isn't there a standard that We The People can hold these police departments accountable to?

There is a difference between full time police officers like NCPD or SCPD who have Civil Service protection. These 5 were part timers that have no protection. They are at will employees. They can be let go without cause.

No one believes he should be paid. Its just the way the system works. In a criminal proceeding you need beyond a reasonable doubt to be convicted. In a civil proceeding all you need is a preponderance of the evidence to win a settlement. Just the fact that the cops were found not guilty substantially lowered gilberds settlement. He may walk away with 75 to 100 thousand. it will never go to a civil trial.

Are you saying the Nassau County Police Department did not have cause to fire a police officer arrested for 1st degree perjury and subsequently convicted of 3rd degree perjury?

Do you respect or trust a police officer who publicly admits he is a liar and is responsible for filing false reports as well as violating criminal laws?

Do you respect and admire a police officer who placed other cops at risk of being charged with and convicted of crimes.

In order to be eligible for a position with the NCPD, an applicant must have a clean criminal record.

Yet, according to the public record, once a person becomes a Nassau County Police Officer he may commit crimes, screw the public over and not have a care in the world about how his criminal conduct affects others?

Yup, no doubt the NCPD hires and maintains officers who are the cream of the crop...and no doubt you are a cop.

Kevin Lamm

Kevin Lamn. Is he the guy who works at Islip MacArthur Airport?

I saw this guy, about 5'9'ish with this weasel looking mustache badgering some old lady for not parking correctly.

When she asked for his name to report him, he got right in her face. He kept threatening her and cursing her out. He said his name is Kevin, sans last name, and that he was a police officer. It was pretty disgusting to watch from the distance.

By the time I finally got up to them, he just walked away. She told me she would report him, but she had a flight to catch.

I'm 99%, but not completely sure this guy was Kevin Lamm. Definitely a Kevin. He's gotta be Kevin Lamm. What are the odds

Frank the Drag Queen

The SCPD is investigating reports that former police officer, now unemployed civilian Frank Fiorillo was stalking young men in Islip Town Parks. It was discovered that when the Park Rangers initially got the call Ranger Tom Snyder was dispatched along with his supervisor Ed Carter. Upon arrival they found Frank in the mens room engaged in oral sex with Kevin Lamm. At the sceen Joe Nofi was found crying saying "what about me, I want some too" with his pants around his ankles. When the 2 rangers figured out the caper they all continued the circle jerk singing " we are going to be rich someday"

The system is overworked and inderfunded, it is based on plea deals not trial.

Adas work scared of going to trial, and more scared of losing, and give up just about anything to get a plea.

Defendants learn this quickly. They are referred to trial attorneys, usually from the city, where trials do dominate courts still. Just hearing this is enough to send a Li ada into a seizure.

While myself and most posters do not work for nassau, as nassau has their own message board, and rarely bother with this crap, being convicted of a misdemeanor in and of itself is not legal grounds to fire a police officer. In fact as the others have posted, nypd allows their applicants to be charged with felonies, and violent misd, as long as the end plea is not either.

The police dept has nothing to do with this plea or the cop maintaining his job. That was the Da's office. If the officers plea was contingent on him not being fired, the da 's office made that happen.

And lets be honest, how many depts in this country would have charged the cop to begin with?

What Happens On Fire Island...

Doc Says Blue Wall Went Up After Beachfront Beatdown

August is typically a festive time of year in any summer-loving beach community, but one man's shocking claims of police brutality, vigilantism and an ensuing coverup is making waves on Fire Island and beyond.

An eye doctor from New Jersey says that last month in Atlantique Beach he was assaulted by off-duty cops, and that Suffolk Police then refused to let him press charges. David Campeas, M.D., an ophthalmologist, was walking two miles down the beach from his Fair Harbor summer home to the Fire Island Synagogue for holiday night services on Saturday, Aug. 9 when he was chased down by three men who accused him of being a flasher, he says. Since he did not have his cell phone on him because it was the Sabbath, he was unable to call the police. He did not believe the admittedly drunk men calling him "faggot" and "pervert" were truly police officers after identifying themselves as such. The three alleged attackers, who were not in uniform, seemed sure that Campeas was the guy who had flashed two 9-year-old girls earlier that night, but Campeas was adamant in declaring his innocence to them. And that's when the beating began, he says.

"'The ocean is right here, let's end it now,'" said one of the men beating him, Campeas wrote in an e-mail obtained by the Press. Said Campeas, "I thought I was dead," adding that the men also threatened him with castration. Just as he thought he was saved when a Suffolk Police Marine Bureau SUV patrolling the beach rolled up, he says he was handcuffed while the officers conducted a "show up," which is when police give crime victims an opportunity to identify a suspect at the scene if one is caught soon after an incident is reported. But the two young victims of the indecent exposure act said that Campeas wasn't the flasher, he says.

"The Blue Wall of Silence" then went up as Suffolk cops refused to take the doctor's statement, says Campeas, the 52-year-old father of three. "I was asked...to understand how upset people were, to accept a personal apology from my assailants and to forget the whole thing." But he refused, and now he is fighting back.

It won't be easy though. Only one of the three men accused of beating Campeas has so far been identified: Detective Arthur Molnar, a Long Islander with the New York City Police Department Warrant Squad, who reportedly admits he was at the scene in Atlantique Beach investigating the flasher case, but who insists that no one was hurt. Campeas' lawyer disagrees.

"It was downhill from the moment they saw him," says Manhattan-based attorney Joel Dranove, who is prepared to sue Suffolk if police they aren't more helpful. "We're looking for [Suffolk Police's] cooperation so that they can be on the same side as us," he says, but expressed frustration with the investigation. A separate law firm working for Campeas has already filed a notice of claim in federal court against the city, naming Molnar personally.

"He was on his way to being murdered on the beach," Dranove says, noting that the doctor now can't perform surgery due to his injuries. Describing the ordeal as a "life-altering nightmare," Dranove adds that "even if they caught the perp, it's an outrage." But for such a scandalous accusation, little is being reported.

Internal Affairs detectives for both the NYPD and Suffolk County Police Department are investigating the doctor's claims, said a spokesperson for each agency. Neither would discuss details. A spokesman for Suffolk County District Thomas Spota could not confirm or deny the existence of a criminal investigation into the Suffolk County Marine Bureau.

In the weeks following the incident, the only sign that anything out of the ordinary took place were posters around the marina from the Third Precinct Crime Section offering a $5,000 reward for information on the case. Families continued barbequing dockside at the Town of Islip-run marina, dock masters went about their business, lifeguards maintained their watch and workers at the lone concession stand were as stunned as anyone.

"I was just very surprised, it's just not like anyone from Atlantique," says Jessica Ginsel, 21, of North Babylon, while serving up snacks for beach-goers on the lone sidewalk from the bay to the ocean here. She suggests that a band playing on the night of the crime may have brought more revelers than usual to this park tucked between the quiet hamlets of Lonelyville and Atlantique. A father of three boys adds that he would have chased after the quy too if it were his kids that were flashed.

One 16-year-old girl told this reporter that she witnessed the beating and is now scared of the police. She's not the only one. Cops on this barrier island already have trust issues with charges of a 2005 beating and cover-up hanging over the heads of four officers with the Ocean Beach Police Department, the island's unofficial capitol. Pre-trial motions are still being heard in that case and pending too are several lawsuits claiming rampant police corruption that complemented those charges.

In the meantime on the Atlantique Beach case, the Campeas' wounds are healing and he is bracing himself for the lengthy court proceedings ahead. And as September dawns on this half-mile strip of sand and the sun sets on the summerlong party that was the backdrop for these accusations, the doctor is wary of coming back to Suffolk. Summering by the sea just won't be the same.

Has anyone heard from any of the former PO's? Since Hesse was acquitted of the baseless charges brought against him, its seems like all the accusations of corruption have quietly gone away. I'm curious, did any of the PO's that were not asked to continue their employment with Ocean Beach ever become Policemen somewhere else? The bottom line is; not one of those rat bastards would have ever made it on any of the 'big jobs' (ie; City, Troopers, or the Counties). HEY RETARDS (Lamm, Fiorello, Carter, Snyder, Nofi), if you were real cops, the first time you were ever in SC was to help screw another cop. It should have been for an arrest that you made! You idiots could not find a collar in a shirt factory! Your day is coming rat boys! By the way-GERDON IS A RAT and should be treated accordingly.

I suspect there are several units within the DA office that do the investigations:

- 1. The "A" Team. They are SCPD detectives that will do most anything for their leader Burke.
- 2. "B" those detectives that simply obey and are too afraid to lose their cushy assignments in the DA office.
- 3. "C" those detectives that just come in and do what they are told and are not necessarily evil.
- 4. "a" those DA Investigators that happily join the SCPD in their black bag jobs.
- 5. "b" those that do not join in criminal acts and are only given routine BS assignements to fill out the day until they retire and are replaced with team players.
- 6. "c" The most interesting group of all. Those 'senior citizen' retired SCPD detectives that did black bag jobs for the likes of Spota going back more than 30 years. On paper they work for Burke. In reality they work for Spota to watch Burke.

I hear one of those excellent detectives asked for a transfer out of the most coveted DA Squad. Maybe that detective really meant it when he was rolling Ray's fingers in the ink when he said, "Why did you make me do this, all you had to do was tell them what they wanted." Maybe he has that conscience I always thought he had. Maybe he got tired of being ordered to frame people? Maybe he just got tired taking his orders from criminals ordering him to arrest a retired cop.

He did such a 'great job' that the DA didn't dare put him on the stand after the judge ruled the 'statements' they said they had were allowed into evidence.

Where was his boss in the courtroom when his neighbor was going to take the stand and Paul Gianelli asked him to come in because it was going to be interesting. Never saw the weasel again. He reminds me of a guy that sets up burglaries for his friends and then hides behind a tree while they are doing the heavy lifting. Then he comes in and testifies against them.

Yeah, real great police work when you have four experts in burglary setting up a guy for a frame: Joe Careccia, Jake Feinberg, Dave Cipkin, and ??????.

Sounds like a case for our esteemed colleagues in the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Although many of the employees seem to think they live and work in the Republic of Suffolk, which is run by King Steven [Levi] and Lord Thomas [Spota], and is not subject to Federal oversight. Rumor has it, my dear friends, that complaints have already been made.

Now lets see if those morons, and you all know who were talking about, are going to poop their pants, or diapers (for the elderly members of the SCDA Squad), when the G-Men with the Bi-Fold ID's come knocking. Just hope they remember all the bullshit they have said in the past and stick to their stories.

Remember, my dear readers, you heard it here first, off the record, on the QT, and very HUSH-HUSH.

Hope the above post has some truth to it. BTW, the weasels have taken it to a new level. Did you see how they took the time to 'copy' my post in the italic mode and changed the ending of that post? Pretty clever.

I have to figure they have a Board Administrator helping out on this.

Remember this my friends - what I have been saying is true. That is not going to change. If the FEDS come a -lookin there is plenty for them to find. Also, remember that I said that all the FEDS really have to do is to look at the trial transcripts and what was not obvious, or ignored by 12 jurors would be obvious to a blind man. Hook that up with testimony from Careccia, Cipkin, and Brosnan, and the rest is history. They better hurry because Jake Feinberg has passed on.

There are people right in the DA office that have been making some serious comments about their own office.

Police Brutality

When the jury was deliberating the Assault 2nd charge and asked for read backs on the law Hesse & HaRDMAN SOILED THEM SELVES and sent their lawyers up to the bench to ask for misd's. The A.D.A. should have taken their plea's because they are guilty as SIN ! Hesse's flunkie lawyer has been trying for 2 yrs to get a Misd plea for him! Also the D.A. blew this one by allowing a Flunkie looser ass City cop to be on the jury because he wasnt going to vote guilty against one of his brothers . Hesse was NEVER a SGT, (failed 3 Sqts tests) and just sewed on a set of stripes, and Hardman was never a CERTIFIED police officer by the Suff Co civil service commission. Hesse violated the law by signing court informations and Hardman had no authority to arrest anyone. This dept is an unbelievable joke they are not even COPS! One day the flunkie city cop might need that city Attny himself since the city cops are getting arrested every day for every crime imaginable! Three jurors complained to the Dist Atty about the flunkie city cop disrupting the whole process . A grave injustice was served on the people of Suff Co. and I dont think there will be any flunkie low paid city cops on the civil jury!

Are you saying that the 'flunky city cop" disrupted the jury like Juror #10 did in the John White case? Or like the juror, Frank Spindel did in the Tankleff case? Did you ever think the 'flunky cop' wouldn't be intimidated and refused the 'kool-aid' that was spoon fed to him by the prosecutor.

Is the statement you made about three jurors complaining to the DA that the 'flunky cop' was disrupting the jury? I thought the procedure that is supposed to be used in such circumstances is for the jury to pass a note to the JUDGE, not the DA regarding such matters.

Maybe the DA believed a 'flunky' low paid NYC cop is just like a Suffolk cop, and would think that other cops in an 'accredited' police department would look down on other cops with disdain.

Maybe the jury got it wrong, and maybe they didn't - I suspect they did, but that is another story.

suffolk county will not and does not settle a police brutality type suit.

This will go to trial.

Whether there is a cop or not on that jury, the taxpayers are tired of paying monies to those who dont deserve it.

Anything new? I remember hearing something awhile back that if a part time police officer hasn't worked as a police officer in two years, he is no longer qualified to function as a police officer. As I remember, that was a BMP rule. Therefore, the five idjots are NO LONGER POLICE OFFICERS. If I'm wrong, please speak up.

Hey SAMMY...how's things in Calif???

Been counting your sheep at night (oop's I mean money LOL)

I guess that your not counting so much now, eh Sammy-boy?

What an arrogant puck...

If King George and his minions didn't beat up Poor Sammy...THEN THEY SHOULD HAVE!!!

Lesson Learned:

If you leave your brains in Manhattan and pack your balls and head to Ocean Beach those 'Bayberry-seasonal-part time-rent-A-Cops just may get you...

Ocean Beach cops ain't 'Real' cops...(just ask SCPD) their 'cookie cops'

Suffolk County cops ain't real cops...(just ask NYPD) their 'Cup-cake cops'

NYPD cops aint real cops...(not on 'welfare' pay scale they ain't)...just ask any 'Long Island' cops...but any and all of these 'Cops' can get you when you decide to act like an ass-hole.

And so where does that leave us with the 5-Pussy Fart, corruption fighter super heroes...maybe they'll end up like that OBPD wonder woman...Cabbage patch Bridgett (the Desk Officer) 'I am Woman' or was it 'I am pregnant Woman' picked on by Chief Ed to the tune of a couple of grand. Seems Chief Ed didn't cater to each and every whim of Bridgett's...even though he tried to.

Maybe the 5 Pussy-Farts could start their own security company...'Pussy-Farts for Hire'

...oh and who said that a 'cop' wont be on the civil trial? That's a roll of the dice and remains to be seen.

as far as PT (Paul Tag...SCDA's office) he'll probably get an aneurysm sitting around OB stewing in his juice.

The 5 Blow Jobs

Hey what ever happened to the 5 Blow Jobs who got fired from Ocean Beach PD? Ed Carter Et Al, Tom Snyder, Joe Nofi, Kevin Lamm and Frank Fiorillo, did your high priced ambulance chasing lawyer realize he was sold a box of rocks from you 5 shit bags? How does it feel knowing you are getting shit for your big pay day? What is going to happen when a counter suit is filed by those named in your suit and those who were needlessly deposed? Oh oh, it's time to shit or go blind,,, just like when you were cops. You couldn't find your own asses with both hands!!!

Just want to set the record straight...

Samuel Gilberd will NOT have to pay any taxes for his $600,000.00 lawsuit settlement.

A simple google search would have prevented your misinformed post.

In NY state a victim of physical injury does NOT have to pay taxes on their lawsuit settlement.

How many out of court settlements is Ocean Beach Police Dept up for the to now?

I lost count....

"SGT" HESSE - you're so busy today - posting here - I did not realize blogging was part of the job.

After all you did say on News12 that you wanted to work on "repairing the image of the Ocean Beach Police Dept."

Your continued blogs with gutter talk - slander - defamation and F bombs really speaks volumes.

If I was an upstanding SGT I would not be blogging such things and I would see to it that any one working for the OBPD does not blog such things either.

- 1. Lawsuits are always started for pie-in-the-sky amounts. I don't know much about this stuff, but I do know that $600,000 is a lot of money and far more than the cost of finishing the lawsuit. Gilberd wins that round.
- 2. I am glad I don't live in OB. I would hate to see my taxes go up to pay the increased liability insurance premiums that OB will have to pay because of Hesse and Company. OB loses that round.
- 3. The fact that Gilberd had the guts to bring his lawsuit will embolden others who were abused by OBPD to bring lawsuits. Did I mention higher insurance premiums? OB loses the next round.
- 4. One would think responsible and honorable residents of OB would throw the bums out, hire REAL cops, who would have real respect, and stop the abuse and corruption. Could it be that Hesse has something on the ones in power and that they are afraid of him? You're all losers!

600k, is less then the salary of the officers who had to testify, the various doctors and medical personnel, the members of the das office, the hospital bills, etc etc. When the laywer presents the list of supoenas he pads it with as much fluff and useless stuff as possible to increase the value of the final award. A supeona of all radio and computer communication for the day in question can cost the dept over 10k alone as you must supoena each separate message.

600k seems like a lot, but its only a few % of the 22 million.

Well not2concerned pretty much sums it up:

The abuse and corruption of OBPD & VILLAGE has resulted in stupendous amounts of wasted money - time - not to mention pain and suffering by all the victims of it's abuse.

The OBPD should be dismantled.

It is a cespool not a beach.

if it was abuse and corruption why was the parties found n/g?
After being found n/g why was it referred to federal court for civil rights violations?

Why would anyone settle for a fraction or a percent of their original suit? If I was the victim of police brutality I'd expect a few million as a starting point for a settlement.

become a victim of Police brutality and get those millions.

Samuel Gilberd is not the only victim of OBPD brutality.

There have been numerous victims over the years that have been paid confidential settlements out of court.

The OBPD are a bunch of thugs. I have witnessed it first hand, while vacationing with my family there. It is a shame that tax payers, pay the salaries of these shameful police officers.

horseshit...there is no such thing as a confidential lawsuit the intitial step to a settlement.

If there was a notice put in, its public info and the news would be all over it. The report would update and state settled out of court undisclosed amount.

I cant recall any other obpd suits soo sorry gee what a shock they ignored it and made claims of confidential lawsuits. you are absolutely right.

cops found not guilty.

no federal probe, no federal interest, no federal civil rights case.

The claimant sued for 22 million and settled for less then 3%, sounds like he took the money and ran.

No one posting has an answer to this and wont respond.

This is when they start lying, and making up confidential lawsuits and settlements. Typical.

dont waste your time with these morons

Awards

WHAT SUFFOLK COUNTY IS TO LOW AWARDS IS WHAT THE BRONX IS TO HIGH AWARDS. If this happened in The Bronx, and the plaintiff was black or Hispanic, he would have gotten $44Million.

It is well known fact that Suffolk County juries are stingy when it comes to lawsuits, be they come from criminal or civil cases. Much depends is who is doing the suing and who is getting sued. Most times it doesn't matter.

For example: Judge Stuart Namm threw out a criminal complaint against a black man that was rear cuffed and had his teeth knocked out of his mouth, and his arms suffered permanent nerve damage of having his arms raised above his head. The judge filed a formal complaint with SCPD that this man was tortured and offered medical evidence to prove it. Now one couldn't ask for anything better when filing a lawsuit. The judge said it, and threw out the charges. That man got only $85,000.00 for his troubles.

SCPD did nothing about it, they didn't bother to investigate the charges. They said, "these kind of things happen in those neighborhoods". They also said the cop was 'very aggresive'.

That officer has gone on to fame and fortune in the SCPD, even though at that time it has been reported that he and his partner amassed 18 complaints of misconduct in their then brief career.

It seems to me from where I stand and with the little information I get from the newspapers, this man was wrongfully beaten by OBPD police officers.

Their misfortune was that they weren't SCPD cops. If they had been there would have been no indictment.

In jurisdictions much smaller than NYC, the juror is struck with the reality that big awards DO come out of their pockets and not a tree in Central Park. A Suffolk juror can see the impact the individual taxpayer must pay for their decision for awarding a multi-million dollar lawsuit. In NYC, no matter what the award it is like a drop in the bucket.

The victim made the right choice, made his point, and took the money and ran.

Did anyone ask for the opinion of a loser? It seems to me you have no real insight into this case that anyone else does or doesnt.

The victim made his point? The story wasnt even covered on news 12 or newsday, google it and there is one story on it.
